The Legislative Reference Bureau, unfortunately, has been in the same boat, Great care has been taken to make sure that the wording of this bill would prove to be constitutional.

Furthermore, Mr. President, the Attorney General's office was very desirous that a bill which has to do with human lives, and the happiness and welfare of people, be well prepared, and that accounts for the delay in getting the bill over here. It reached the Legislature yesterday, and we are happy to introduce it today.

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

And said bill having read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 329, Senate Bill No. 341, and Senate Bill No. 387 are the package of bills which carry out the recommendations of the Government Survey Committee in relation to merging the Department of Health, the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance into one department.

Mr. President, these are the bills on which we held a public hearing last Thursday, in the Republican Senate Caucus Room, and for a change we saw some people who came to testify as to why they felt the legislation was good. This is the first hearing which we have held where any of the Task Force of the Chesterman Committee came and tried to make out a case for the legislation which they recommended. After we heard them, they admitted that they had not given it very much time, that the work they thought was well done but it was a hurried study, and they also stated that unless all these other mergers took place, they felt they did not want to have this particular one.

On the other side of the argument, Mr. President, we heard from a representative of the doctors of Pensylvania, and he stated definitely that this was very bad legislation and that it would not save any money.

Mr. President, both sides, in fact, agreed that it would probably cost a little more money, because at the head of these departments they would have a superman. This superman would, they thought, have his finger on the pulse of all these departments and would be able to coordinate them, and this superman would report to the Governor. However, this "Mr. Superman" would get $20,000 per year under their recommendation.

Mr. President, the doctors felt that the Department of Health of Pennsylvania was so important that it should be a separate department and be represented by a member in the Governor's Cabinet. They said that there were only two States which had this merger. I think they said they were Maine and Missouri. Both of these States found that this merger was a failure, and now they are trying to get the Department of Health separated.

Mr. President, I have received a telegram from the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, which held a special meeting just to consider this resolution. These doctors are the ones from whom the people back home certainly receive their advice, and they certainly like to pay for it. They are so glad to get their advice, that they can hardly wait to get home before taking the prescription which these doctors prescribe for them. Yet, when the same doctors tell us something about our Department of Health, and it happens to be contrary to the legislation which we have on the Calendar, there are certain people in Pennsylvania who feel we are scuttling certain recommendations of the Chesterman Committee.

Mr. President, I believe that we are trying to do a good job in connection with all this legislation which has been recommended by the Chesterman Committee. We have gone out and tried to get expert advice in connection with it, and yet we are always confronted with this business of the Members of the Senate scuttling the so-called economy legislation recommended by the Chesterman Committee.

In this telegram from these doctors, Mr. President, they say that the statement of those who propose and advocate this new Department of Health and Welfare, that the $20,000 a year administrator of the department would have the entire health and welfare picture at this fingertips, is wishful thinking if not absured. They have about a three page telegram stating their reasons for not wanting this legislation enacted. I am not going to read the entire telegram, but the sense of their message is that it is certainly bad legislation and should not be enacted.

Mr. President, I hope before some of the editors of the various newspapers in Pennsylvania take up their pens to write an editorial on how we are again scuttling economy moves, that they would at least take the opportunity of reading these bills. If they will write to me, I will see that the editors receive copies of the bills so that when they write the editorials, they will be able to know what they are talking about. Instead of just blanketing a blank indictment against us, if they will advise us just which bills they would like to have us vote for and why, I think perhaps it might have some effect on us.

Mr. President, we still have some of these bills remaining on the Calendar, but just to level a blanket shotgun charge at us, I do not like very much.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in looking at this particular set of bills, this is probably the first recommendation, outside of the recommendation consolidating the Department of Justice, the Parole Board and the State Police, that is aimed at a complete reorganization of the State Government. I do not konw whether these particluar bills are the right bills to do this job. I do know that back in 1943, I tried to impress upon the Senate the advisability of consolidating certain departments into one particular department, particularly the Department of Public Assistance, Welfare and Health. Now, being consistent in that thought, I must, of necessity, vote for this set of bills.

Mr. President, I agree with the Senator when he says that the elimination of three department heads and the creation of five bureau heads is not entirely in the interest of economy. However, sooner or later, we must realize that the Department of Public Assistance, as such, has outgrown its usefulness.

Mr. President, we have reached the stage in Pennsylvania where, in the main, the persons who are receiving assistance through that department belong, in the vast majority, to the four categorical reliefs. These categorical reliefs should be administered to by the Department of Welfare. It was the intention of the past Legislature, when it created the Department of Welfare, that the categorical reliefs be placed in that department, and they were so placed. However, during the depression, some persons thought that a new department was needed to administer the affairs of public assistance.

Mr. President, I have always said that the terriffic overhead of the Department of Public Assistance could be shaved to as low as ten per cent of that amount which is being spent today, and the work carried on by the Department of Welfare. As you all know, when we spend $200,000,000 a biennium for public assistance, we are spending $20,000,000 for administration. Most of us can remember when the entire relief appropriation of the Commonwealth was approximately $5,000,000 but we know that is no longer possible. However, the administration of public assistance has become routine, and there is no necessity for the great amount of work being performed by the department of this time.

Mr. President, it is very important that we, at this time, move a step toward the consolidation of the various departments, especially those related departments. In support of this argument, all you need to do is take the action of the Federal Congress, at the suggestion of the new President of the United States. Last month they created in Washington a new department, the Department of Health, Welfare and Public Assistance. They in Washington, have united the three departments of a like nature in the interest of consolidation and economy.

Mr. President, these bills do not particularly create the economy which can be created once we achieve the consolidation of these departments. I believe that sooner or later we must come to the position where we must overhaul our State Government. All of us are aware of the tremendous load placed upon the taxpayers by the demands of the taxpayers. However, it is the duty of the General Assembly to amalgamate, to consolidate and legislate for those departments, and to those departments, in any manner whatsoever which will give the people of Pennsylvania the services needed, at the lowest administrative cost.

Mr. President, no person can justify the tremendous amount of money being spent by the Department of Public Assistance for administrative purposes. There are not many persons in Pennsylvania who know that out of every $10,000,000 that we spend for public assistance in Pennsylvania, $1,000,000 is spent for administration; out of every dollar which is spent by the taxpayers for public assistance in Pennsylvania, ten cents of it—better still, I think last month's average was 10.7—is spent for administration.

Mr. President, there are certain basic costs that must be met in the administration of any department. So, if your expenditure for public assistance was $10,000,000, probably you could justify an expenditure of ten per cent for administration. However, if you will go back through the records,—and I assure you that I have gone through the records—you will find that the very lowest percentage which has ever been spent for administration is eight and three-quarter per cent. At that time, you were spending $322,000,000 a biennium for relief in this Commonwealth, and that is better than $34,000,000 spent for administration.

Ever since the days of Secretary de Schweinitz, Mr. President, who was the original Secretary of the Department of Public Assistance, and for whom the department was created, they have established a set rule of spending eight and ten per cent for administrative cost, regardless of the total amount spent. They always make sure that they spend their ten per cent by adding to or subtracting from their monthly expenses, in order that at the end of the biennium they can justify a ten per cent expenditure for administration. In this administrative cost is a tremendous amount of money that is spent for printing. They publish a booklet and send it out to the persons on relief, and it tells them how to go about consolidating their position on relief.

Mr. President, we have given, during the days of depression, our votes for every liberalization, in order to see to it that those unfortunate citizens of Pennsylvania were not deprived of sufficient food, shelter and clothing to keep them at least at a minimum standard of existence. However, in those days, if you will remember, the great bulk of the load for the Department of Public Assistance was made up of unemployed persons, who were employable but were unemployed because of the depression and the lack of job. During the past twelve years, this has not been true. We have reached the highest peak of employment that this Nation and this State has ever known. Yet, we find our Department of Public Assistance going merrily along, spending, I believe, in this next biennium something like $21,000,000 for the administration of that department.

Mr. President, I believe that these bills are a step toward an essential move in State Government. I know that any time you tend to make a change of any kind in government, you run into opposition. I received the same admonitions that the Republican Floor Leader received from the doctors and the various interested groups. I see nothing in consolidation that will destroy the effectiveness of the Department of Health, or the Department of Welfare or the Department of Public Assistance. I believe that, at this time, we have an opportunity to at least vote for a beginning, humble at it may be, toward a reorganization of State Government, in order that we may at some later date give to the people of Pennsylvania an efficient, well-balanced administration, run economically, and still give to the people of this Commonwealth the essential services for health and welfare.

I would beg you to reconsider, if you can, your decision to vote down this particular group of bills.

Mr. President, I have been outspoken in my criticism of the political pork barrel bills which have found their way into the Chesterman Report, and I am convinced that Mr. Chesterman, himself, never intended that those particular bills be part of the package. However, when it comes to economy, and where we can see that there is even a slim chance for economy, then I believe that our position must be clear. I respectfully urge that the Members of the Senate, acting either as a political group or as individuals, give serious consideration to this particular group of bills, because I do believe that it is this kind of legislation that is giving the people of Pennsylvania the hope that they can save considerable millions of dollars by following through some of the recommendations of the Chesterman Committee.

Mr. President, I refuse to admit that all of the Chesterman Comimttee recommendations are right, but I also refuse to acknowledge that all of the recommendations are bad. I believe that, in the main, if we will take those bills which have a definite price tag of economy on them, we can present to the people of Pennsylvania a program based upon an intelligent approach. I would, at this time, ask that all of you consider this particular group of bills for what they intend to do, more than for what they do immediately.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I confess that as of this day I have not read the entire Chesterman Committee Report. However, I have read carefully, and given considerable consideration to, that part of the Chesterman Report which pertains to this bill and several other companion bills.

Mr. President, I personally believe that there is considerable overlapping of functions in the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance, particularly. I am also of the opinion that an over-all administrator, who is a good businessman, could effect economies. It is not my understanding that we would not have a doctor overseeing all matters pertaining to public health. I have, for quite some time, believed that our hospitals and our mental hospitals should be under the supervision and guidance of a medical man. I know most of the doctors in my own Senatorial District, and while we have splendid doctors, I do not think those doctors would hold themselves out as business or financial experts.

Mr. President, in the belief that this section of the Chesterman Committee Report can effectuate economies, I will, in that hope and belief, vote for the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is quite apparent now that the funeral procession is nearing the burial ground, and the corpse, rather than receiving the rites of a minister, is being stabbed in the back by the doctors to make sure that no life remains.

Mr. President, I have the deepest respect for the medical profession, but I cannot say truthfully that too many of them are business administrators. They are so fearful that the government will fall if we have consolidation of these various departments.

We have talked for months and for years about economy, Mr. President. When are we going to start? Where are we going to start? I believe sincerely that now we have the opportunity to consolidate a number of departments, and thus show a savings and help to balance this budget. However, we only talk about economy, and thus far we have shown no signs of being sincere.

Mr. President, in a few weeks we will be confronted with a sales tax or an income tax, with a cry to the people back home that we will take everything away from you, because we have failed to pass a tax here and because we have faied to show economy.

Mr. President, I agree with my colleague from Blair County and my colleague from Westmoreland County, that now, if we are sincere in what we have been talking about for years, we can show some signs of economy by the consolidation of these various departments.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred).

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 347, entitled:

An Act providing for the sale of the State medical and surgical hospitals and for the disposition of the purchase moneys therefor

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL No. 347 BE RECOMMITTED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I might suggest that this bill should be recommitted to committee, because there is another bill replacing it, doing identically the same thing, except that it has a different effective date, an effective date which makes it possible to carry out the provisions of the act. If this bill is now passed as it is written, it will be impossible for the State to carry out the program contained therein. An identical bill has been introduced by Senator Mahany and myself, which will take the place of this bill. I think it is Senate Bill No. 386, and it is on the Calendar today.

Therefore, Mr. President, with the permission of my co-sponsor, I move that this particular bill be recommitted to committee.

(The Senate was at ease.)

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL No. 347 BE RECOMMITTED TO COMMITTEE WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President. I have to take back everything I said; destroy the record and start all over.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I wish to withdraw my motion to recommit Senate Bill No. 347.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 347 is all right. That is the bill which has the provision in Section 6 which allows the orderly sale and conveyance of the hospitals, if the bill passes. Therefore, I would ask my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, now, once again here, we have the opportunity to save money, because if you analyze the situation carefully you will find that State-owned hospitals are costing the Commonwealth enormous sums of money. They are not being managed properly; they compete with nonprofit hospitals; they are out at every turn; they drop room rents; they pay higher salaries; and then they come back to us for deficiency appropriations. Most of them are run by doctors who, as I said awhile ago, have very little ability as administrators.

Mr. President, if you sell those hospitals and put them back in the hands of nonprofit organizations, the Commonwealth will save millions of dollars in the years to come.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I realize that this is one of those measures which is part of the outcropping of the Chesterman Report, on which we rather largely stand on our own judgment, but I rise in place as one Senator to ask my colleagues on both sides to very carefully and very seriously consider what this proposel would do.

Mr. President, to begin with, there is a need for these institutions. If we had reached the place where we had more hospitalization available than the people of Pennsylvania needed, then we might very well consider the feasibility of discarding or stepping away from our responsibility on some of these State-owned hospitals. As a matter of fact, the need for hospitalization is intense.

There is no such thing, Mr. President, if I may suggest it, as competition between these State institutions and private hospitals, because today, yesterday and tomorrow, private hospitals have been, are and will continue to add wings and enlargements to their institutions, in order that they may satisfy the demands for health services which come from patrons and from patients. In addition to these private hospitals, these hospitals are so busy that within the last couple of years, the General State Authority has been authorized by our votes to expend the money of the State upon wings, additions and improvements to these State hospitals so that they might provide all of the services which the public demands.

Mr. President, if you dispose of the hospitals, are you going to continue to appropriate money here to liquidate the obligation of the General State Authority? Dare we put ourselves in the position where we foolshily authorize at one Session of the Legislature additions to, and enlargements of, our State hospitals by the General State Authority with State money, and then turn around and dispose of them on the assumption that we do not need them?

Mr. President, I do not care to debate, particularly today, the management of these hospitals. I do not even care especially to correct the record, in so far as it was stated that they are managed by doctors who are not good administrators. I have three of these State hospitals in my own Senatorial District. They have three superintendents, not one of whom is a physician, so that there is not necessarily professional medical administration.

Mr. President, particularly do I want to point out the fact that these hospitals are taking care of people who must be given hospital service. Whether you put them in a State hospital, or whether you put them in a private hospital, the State has to reimburse hospitals for charity patients and for free service.

Much ado is made of the appropriations for the management of State hospitals, Mr. President. Nothing is said of the fact that some revenue comes back from the hospitals which, of course, diminishes substantially the cost to the State, and which very likely means these State-owned hospitals do not cost the treasury of the State of Pennsylvania any more than we would pay to compensate and recompense private hospitals for free services which they have to render to indigent people and the unfortunately ill who cannot pay for their own.

Mr. President, I cannot, frankly, conceive of what the reaction of the public would be, all around the State, if we arbitrarily discontinued this hospital service. Would we expect that local communities are going to buy these hospitals? They certainly would not buy the one nearest to where I live, because when the hospital was built originally, thousands of miners gave at least a day's wages, each as their local contribution, toward the establishment of a hospital in which miners who were ill and injured could be taken care of. To them, it is partially their institution now, because they advanced probably the initial funds to make possible the construction. You do not pay for something twice. They do not want to buy it over again.

If it is not taken over locally, Mr. President, then you would put it out to bid, and you would let those who are interested buy these hospitals for the value of the bricks, and the tile and the timber that might be in them. I, for one, would certainly be exceedingly reluctant to see a situation of that kind, where State established services are being destroyed for a few paltry dollars when the sick, and the ailing and the afflicted are crying out and demanding, as they will, that the State find some place to take care of them.

If for no other reason, Mr. President, than the fact that in many cases these hospitals already have been partially paid for locally, and for the fact that we have gone ahead with our General State Authority and invested more money in them recently, as recently as this biennium, and, most important of all, the fact that we need, in Pennsylvania today, all of the hospitals on which we can lay our hands to properly service the sick who need attention, I hope, regardless of politics, and I know that this is not a political or a partisan matter, your good judgment will prompt you to put at ease, once and for all, the people who are depending on these hospitals for their health and well-being, and defeat this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not believe that we want to get into a debate on the merits of this particular bill. However, the principle involved is one that deserves some consideration at this time.

In the first place, Mr. President, these hospitals should never have been built under the program which created them. We have sixty-seven counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Six counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had the benefit, and have had the benefit for many years, of the use of taxpayers' money, collected all over the Commonwealth in the sixty-seven counties. They have had these hospitals built for them by State moneys and with State moneys. The other sixty-one counties have provided hospitals for their people out of the private funds and local funds of the citizens. We give to these ten hospitals approximately $11,000,000 a biennium as against $16,000,000 for 182 other hospitals in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, it is a question of the principle involved. Maybe what the Senator is talking about is absolutely true. Maybe this is the wrong time to relinquish control, but basically all we are trying to do is to give to these communities these hospitals, at little or no cost to them. So far as we are concerned, it would be a great saving in money to the people of Pennsylvania if we gave them to the communities for nothing, because then they would be responsible for the operation and maintenance of the hospitals. Instead of receiving approximately $11,000,000 out of the public till, they would receive their share of aid to the various hospitals which would amount to, probably in their case, because of the distressed districts in which they are situated, I would say that the maximum they would receive from the Commonwealth would not exceed two and one-half million dollars.

Mr. President, I know also that certain moneys collected at these hospitals come back to the General Fund of the Commonwealth, amounting to something like four and three-quarter million dollars a biennium, but the total saving would be approximately three and one-half million dollars to the people.

Mr. President, setting aside any savings, back in the days when these hospitals were built, the coal operators and the railroad operators of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania were strong enough in the legislative halls to have these hospitals created for them, to take care of their injured workmen and to fight off the passage of a Workmens' Compensation Act in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. That is all they were created for; it was the only reasoning behind the creation of this particular debt upon the Commonwealth. It never was the responsibility of the Commonwealth, and if it was not the Commonwealth's responsibility then, it cannot be now.

Mr. President, faced with the situation that we are in today, I believe it would pay the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to turn these hospitals over to the communities absolutely free. If you will read this legislation, you will see that it can be done. However, the gentleman spoke of the General State Authority. What he said is true. We have spent considerable money from the General State Authority to expand and repair these hospitals, but every hospital has a debt against it of the exact amount that was spent for that particular hospital. When they are put up for sale, or a sale is negotiated, they will have to consider the debt against the hospitals because that is a first mortgage on the property, and the General State Authority would have returned to it the moneys which have been expended to repair, and rebuild and to extend the facilities.

I say, Mr. President, in this particular legislation, the same as the legislation we discussed earlier this afternoon, this is another time when this Legislature has an opportunity to establish a principle in government that should never have been violated in the first place.

Therefore, Mr. President, I suggest to the Members of the Senate that it may appear to be a harsh decision to make at this time, because we all know that the anthracite and the bituminous regions are not in a very healthy economic state, and perhaps it may create some hardship in some cases, but we cannot justify keeping free State-owned hospitals in six out of sixty-seven counties. It cannot be justified because, in the first place, if you have free hospitals there, then every community is entitled to the same consideration under our Constitution.

Mr. President, my home town is now in the process of building a hospital; we have never had one. The neighboring hospital has become too crowded and my community is building a new, modern hospital, but they are doing it with public subscriptions, taken up by the hospital committee among the various industries and the citizenry of that community who are to be serviced. I believe that if you will go back into the history, you will find that the vast majority of hospitals in this Commonwealth were built by the same type of a program.

These hospitals should belong to the local communities, Mr. President, and that is all this legislation aims to do, give them the responsibility for the operation.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would not be a party to have these hospitals abandoned or turned over to individuals who would operate them as other than hospitals. I realize that a number of these hospitals are located in distressed areas.

Mr. President, on other occasions, in dealing with airports, I recall that the State turned over the State-owned airport at Martinsburg, in Blair County, for one dollar. I think that all of the hospitals in the State should be handled by local people.

Therefore, Mr. President, if this bill would not provide for a gift of the hospitals to the localities, I would not vote for the bill. I am not certain whether that is possible. May I ask my colleague, Senator Letzler, in whose district there is a State-owned hospital, whether that is possible.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, it is possible but it is not in the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I request that this bill go over in its order, so that provision can be made to make a gift, by the State, to the localities wherein these hospitals are located, and possibly have an extension of time in order to work the matter out, perhaps a year, I would suggest.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, it seems to me, making due allowance for the suggestion of the Senator from Blair, which I know was given in the best of faith, we might better resolve and dispose of this issue while the pertinent information given by a number of people is very fresh in our minds.

We are thinking about health, and welfare and people this afternoon, Mr. President. Senator Dent made some very appropriate observations, in some of which I concur. He spoke regarding the assistanc program and the amount of overhead involved at a time when we have untold prosperity and employment, historically at a peak both in the Nation and in Pennsylvania. Yet, if any man in this Senate recalls the last bulletin he received from the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, in the Department of Labor and Industry, he will find that the unemployment rolls in the anthracite counties are terrific, and are increasing right now at a time when employment generally is at a top level. Last week, a coal operation in Schuylkill County gave up the ghost and idled four hundred men. Twice, similar experiences have happened within the last three months. Of all times, Mr. President, never could there be a worse time to unload these institutions back on the local people.

I would like to point out, Mr. President, that this is not my prejudiced opinion, that it is not just a case of a guy putting up a battle for his own home town or county, but the experts seem to agree on that.

Two or three sessions ago, Mr. President, Secretary Brown, of the Welfare Department, and I do not think he could have any objection to my quoting him here, came to me on this floor and asked me would I carefully consider ways and means of putting these hospitals back on the local municipalities or local associations. He seemed to feel that it would be a relief, a burden taken off the back of the State. In a hearing of the Appropriations Committee, at which the Welfare Department appeared, within the last couple of months, Secretary Brown referred to his original position. He said he is now convinced that the State would be no better off financially if those hospitals were given up, than it is if we keep them and take care of the people who need attention.

Mr. President, we talk about workmen's compensation. I do not know, I am a comparatively young fellow yet, whether the coal companies did what the Senator said in regard to evading occupational disease claims by getting the State to build a hospital. I never heard it that way. I heard it was a demand that grew up and sprung up from the working men, who started this thing by their offer to give a day's pay in order that they might have hospitalization.

Surely our position on workmen's compensation, Mr. President, our position on occupational diseases, has been well-established as recently as the last Session, in which we helped carry the ball in order to liberalize and lift it once again.

It is protecting nobody except the people who need these services, Mr. President, and I do it somewhat reluctantly, but I object to the Senator's request that the bill go over, and I ask that we dispose of it, if agreeable, this afternoon.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, there has been a question raised as to whether or not the State could waive the indebtedness to the General State Authority. I do not presume to be able to answer that question. I had hoped that we could get an opinion from the Attorney General on this matter, but if we cannot do it, we cannot do it.

Therefore, Mr. President, I withdraw my request that this bill go over in order.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I listened with a great deal of interest to the discussion of the bill here before the Senate, and I am convinced that each of the Senators who spoke on it is sincere in speaking as he did. However, I would like to go on record as being in accord with Senator Wagner's remarks.

Mr. President, this legislation must be considered in the light of the background of the communities in which these hospitals are placed. Most of them are in coal regions, and I think all of us know that for years the coal industry has been a sick industry. For that reason, the conditions in those areas, economically, have been rather poor. Now, many of the coal areas are gradually making a transition from a coal economy, or from a single industry economy, to a more diversified type of industrial economy. Many new factories have been relocated and placed throughout the coal regions, particularly in northeastern Pennsylvania, and in years to come we hope to enjoy a fuller measure of prosperity than we have had in recent years.

Mr. President, personally, I have tried to vote for as many of these economy bills as possible. I think I voted for a great majority of the Chesterman Committee bills up to this point. However, in my opinion, this bill does not represent economy. This is an attempt to close the State hospitals. With the effect it would have upon the poor and the needy in the communities in which they are located, on the communities themselves in the light of their economic conditions, this bill represents a false economy.

Mr. President, it has been pointed out here that almost 200 hospitals throughout the State receive same State aid, and the Secretary of Welfare has been quoted as stating that it would not represent a saving to take these hospitals out from under direct State ownership, and then give them a grant as a State-aided institution if they were in community hands.

Mr. President, I ask each and every Senator, before voting, to consider very seriously the effect it would have on the communities, and the nature of the communities, in which these hospitals are located. I believe that if you do, you will vote against this bill, in the belief that this is not the proper time to turn over to these communities the State-owned hospitals.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am not laboring under any misapprehensions. I do not think the bill is going to pass, but at least I should have the right to say what I think.

Mr. President, I do not agree with my colleague from Schuylkill County, but I am in sympathy with he and my colleague from Lackawanna County. Out of sixty-seven counties, as my colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, pointed out, we have six counties wherein they have State-aided hospitals. In sixty-one counties, we have civic minded people who realize they have some responsibilities and who, through efforts of their own, in conjunction with coal operators, civic clubs, fraternal clubs, payroll deductions and whatnot, have maintained their hospitals throughout the years.

Mr. President, when we come to the Appropriations Committee and point out to that committee that we are getting a mere pittance of $6.50 per day, per ward patient, what are we told? We are told to go back home and make our people understand that we have a certain responsibility to maintain the sick. Today, the hospitals throughout the Commonwealth are asking this same committee to raise the stipend from $6.50 per day to $8.00. How far have they gotten? We have no assurance that we will receive $6.50 per day.

Mr. President, every man here knows that it is impossible to care for a patient in any hospital for less than twice that amount. Certainly these gentlemen who are getting a free ride, may I say, who have these hospitals, should be interested. Perhaps I would be, too, if I had a free hospital. As I said a moment ago, sixty-one counties carry their own load, and six counties depend entirely upon State taxes.

Mr. President, we talk about coal mines closing down, and that this is a bad time to do it. Since the Eisenhower administration has taken over, my county is in a depression. We never had it so bad. Every week, for the last several weeks, when I go back home, I pick up the daily papers and find where some coal mine has closed down. They are pulling out their rails, the machinery, and all that is saving Cambria County right now is the fact that they are receiving unemployment compensation. When that expires, they will apply for relief. Still we have civic minded people who, throughout all depressions, have maintained their hospitals and cared for the sick.

Mr. President, I say to you that under this bill we have until 1958 to make some manner of sale. I agree with my colleague from Blair County that I, for one, would not go along with selling this property for industrial plants. However, I say, in Schuylkill County and Lackawanna County, you will find civic minded people who will incorporate under the laws of the Commonwealth and maintain these hospitals. My good friend, Senator Wagner, called them private hospitals. I do not think he meant to use that term, because we have very few private hospitals, if any, in Pennsylvania. They are not private hospitals; they are nonprofit hospitals, operated by a group of civic minded people who find ways and means of caring for the sick.

Mr. President, it is not fair to the balance of us in the Commonwealth to pay a huge tax to maintain six counties, when sixty-one counties must find ways and means to operate their hospitals.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I dislike very much to disagree with my distinguished leader and Chairman of the Democratic Caucus. I am for economy, but I am not for economy at the expense of human misery, privation and want.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I say to you that, in my humble opinion, we need more hospitalization here in Pennsylvania. If you gentlemen will recall, I think it was either in the 1951 or the 1949 Session, we set up machinery whreby we could establish health clinics in every county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Now, we recognized the need at that particular time, that we needed more hospitalization. It seems to me that if we vote for this legislation, we are doing wrong because, in my humble opinion, Mr. President, what we should do is increase our appropriations.

Mr. President, one of our Members said here a little while ago that the mines were closing down, and people were on unemployment compensation and they were headed for relief. How in the world are we going to economize then, in cutting down relief appropriations, if that is the case! I think it is the case. That is one of the reasons I will not vote for this legislation, because we need these hospitals.

Mr. President, we have many poor people who cannot pay their way regardless of whether the State keeps them or not. We must provide that service. That is society's responsibility, and I, for one, am going to vote against this piece of legislation.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, my colleagues who have these hospitals in their respective communities, I think, made a very excellent statement regarding the need for maintaining these hospitals as they are now as State hospitals.

Mr. President, we are very proud of the Philipsburg State Hospital, which is in Centre County, and which has been built up, certainly, by funds from the State in one sense, but I just want to say this. As Senator Lane has so well said, just a moment ago, only the pepole who very very badly need hospitalization, and are unable to pay for it, have been given any free service in that hospital. We return to the State, I know, upward of seventy per cent of the total cost of maintaining that hospital at Philipsburg. There is a very efficient staff there, an efficient staff of nurses and doctors who certainly do not, in my estimation, take any advantage, but who are ready to give splendid service in their profession to these hospitals.

Mr. President, hospitals are being built daily. We need hospitalization. I do not know what would happen to our community if we were to lose the Philipsburg State Hospital. We would not be able to maintain it. We are badly in need of it in the bituminous region where we reside. The coal business there is just as bad as it is anywhere.

Therefore, Mr. President, I plead with my colleagues to vote against this bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I do not want the people to get the impression that these hospitals are being done away with. This bill so states that it gives them until 1958 to find ways and means to form corporations to operate the hospitals. However, if they do not do it by 1958, the hospitals wi l not be sold out; they will still be maintained by the State.

In other words, Mr. President, we are trying to stir up the community, and inspire the community, in order that they get together and take over these hospitals before 1958. If they do not do it by 1958, the hospitals will still exist and will still be operated by the State. We are not trying to deny anyone hospitalization.

Mr. President, I would like to disagree with the gentleman from Centre County, when he speaks about these hospitals being used for people who are in need. It is a strange thing that a few people, a few Democratic Legislators, wrote letters to one of these hospitals for a patient who deserved hospitalization, and the person in charge of admittance told them they had the letter from the wrong person. That is a factual case.

Mr. President, I would like to point out that in this community, if you will look into your free beds, free days of hospitalization within these counties, every person, every man, woman and child must stay five days in a hospital to get the number of free days which they claim they have given to the people of that community.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bil' pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I think that of all the Chesterman bills which have been placed before us for consideration, this is the most unreasonable and the silliest thing. I just wonder how silly we can get, that we have to spend money to print bills of this nature.

Mr. President, any of us who have anything to do with education,—I happen to be a member of my local board at home—know how difficult it is to procure teachers. I do not know what the Chesterman Report says we will save if we close these seven State Teachers' Colleges. I do know that in the last biennium, their total appropriation was $11,600,000 for the maintenance and operation of those fourteen State Teachers' Colleges. We have this year before us an appropriation bill of $21,500,000 for another school. This is just one school. However, the total fourteen State Teachers' Colleges have only spent $11,600,000 in the last biennium.

Mr. President, we know that there is only one teacher available for every seven vacancies that exist in Pennsylvania. Teachers in physical education, teachers in industrial arts, art teachers, home economics teachers, are all at a premium; you cannot get any; there just are not any. Now, if we close these seven schools, and some of them specialize in that particular field, I do not know what we are going to do. Our teachers' salaries are mandated at a $2,400 beginning salary. Most school districts have to pay anywhere from $2,700 to $3,000 for a beginning teacher. If we close these colleges, I am wondering where these school districts are going to find the necessary teachers.

Mr. President, I ask all of you to realize the seriousness of this matter, and ask that you vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill. My colleague called it a silly bill. I would not call it a silly bill, and I cannot sit back and not challenge him.

Mr. President, I know schoolteachers right now who are looking for jobs. If any member has any vacancies, I will give them a few. There is no scarcity of schoolteachers, and I maintain that by eliminating half of these colleges, and if those students who are enrolled in the other half will pledge that they will follow that profession, you will have a surplus, year in and year out. We have students coming in from adjacent States at our expense. We pay the bill by paying the tax. Once they graduate, where do they go? They go back to Virginia and Ohio, Michigan and elsewhere, and the people of this Commonwealth are paying the bill.

Mr. President, we talk about economy. It is the same old story. It all depends on where you live. There is no economy in this Senate. You have not shown any throughout the entire Session. You have no hope of showing any economy. All you have in mind is tax, tax and tax. You will tax yourselves out of business.

Mr. President, everybody is shedding tears for the schoolteachers. I say again, the number of colleges left under this bill will give us a surplus of all the teachers we need in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, we all realize that the State Teachers' Colleges are schools mostly for people who cannot afford to go to a private school. It is a school which has the facilities for those people who are in the lower income bracket, let us say. In Pennsylvania, you can go to Indiana State Teachers' College for $550 a year. None of the other schools can compare or touch that figure. In our bordering State of Maryland, the cost there is $346.

Mr. President, I would like to say to my colleague, Senator Haluska, from Cambria County, that those teachers about whom he talks, who are unemployed, certainly must not be very good teachers or they could get a job. If they are good teachers, tell them to come and see me, and I will see that they are placed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I deeply resent the remark made about those teachers, because they are qualified. They have served for many years and because of consolidation, mergers, back in my county, they are out of a job. I think it is very unfair for anyone to make such a remark unless he has the facts about which he is speaking.

Mr. PECHAN. Tell them to move over to Armstrong County, and we will take care of them.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I may do that later on.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I dislike taking issue all day long here with our leadership, but I say to you, and I want to inform the Senate, that I was accused of something not long ago in Caucus. They wanted to know whether I had the deed to the California State Teachers' College. Gentlemen, I do not have it, but I want to keep it there.

Mr. President, I am going to vote against this bill, I would like to see the vote go 47-0, but I do not think it will. Senator Haluska is going to vote for the bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like someone to explain to me just what this bill does. We have debated it in Caucus, and I would like to know the purpose of the amendment on page 4, the strike out there, on line 11. Perhaps the Majority Leader can explain the bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as I understand this bill, it is in connection with the Unemployment Compensation Fund. When the Secretary of Labor and Industry, acting on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, collects fines and penalties under the Unemployment Compensation Law, those fines and penalties do not go into the General Fund of the State of Pennsylvania, and are not budgeted out as other funds are budgeted. Under the law, relative to this particular matter, they are kept in a separate fund which does not go through the Budget Office.

This fund, of course, Mr. President, is within the State Treasurer's Department, and the Secretary of Labor and Industry uses that fund to make various surveys. He just does not willy-nilly draw a check on the fund, but, first, he writes to Washington to find out there whether or not the matter that he has in mind—that is, the investigation he has in mind—is a proper expenditure. The department in Washington then writes back to him, and advises him whether or not this is so. If they say it is a proper expenditure, then he refers the matter to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, and if the Attorney General says it is a proper expenditure, then he draws a check on the fund for that particular item.

For instance, Mr. President, they recently made a very fine moving picture on the benefits of hiring crippled people. I do not know whether any of you have seen that picture, but it is a very good one, and I understand that the picture has been instrumental in having a hundred or more employers write to the department for further information, in an attempt to find out how they might put crippled people to work in their industries.

There was another survey made, Mr. President, on the effects, for instance, of a depression, which might happen, on the hiring of persons over forty-five years of age. They found that if we go into a recession or depression, employees over forty-five years of age are the first to be laid off.

Mr. President, it gives them a lot of information and we feel that the fund should be left where it is, under the supervision it now has, and should not be placed in the State Treasury and commingled with the other moneys of the Commonwealth. Therefore, under the present law, which forbids it, you would certainly have to change that before you could make this piece of legislation into law if you so desired.

Mr. President, I do not feel that this bill is good legislation, and I ask my colleagues to vote "no." It will not effect any economies, and the present setup is a good one.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, Senator.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 380, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by requiring the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review to coordinate work of referees and prohibiting hearings de novo on further appeals

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this is another bill following a recommendation of the Chesterman Committee, and I am not going to vote for this bill no matter how hard my distinguished colleague on the other side might try to convince me, as I did on one of these previous bills.

I want to say this about the bill, Mr. President. This bill provides that you cannot take any further testimony after you have a hearing, after you have appealed from an unemployment compensation award. The way this procedure works, if a man is unemployed and he feels that he should have unemployed compensation, he files a claim. If it is turned down, he takes an appeal to the Unemployment Compensation Referee. If he is not satisfied with the decision of that referee, he takes an appeal to the board, and then if the board refers it back, this poor fellow, if he has not produced enough evidence or testimony the first time that he had been before the referee, he would be denied presenting any further testimony or evidence.

So, Mr. President, you get a poor fellow who might have gone to the first hearing before the referee without an attorney to properly present his case, and then the board turns it back after he has lost in his appeal to the board, and then his attorney, in the second time around, would be unable to produce any testimony or evidence to help the man substantiate his claim for unemployment compensation.

Mr. President, I think everybody is entitled to present as much evidence and testimony as they want to, or as much as is legally possible, either in the first hearing, or the second hearing or any subsequent hearing. There is no evidence on the part of anybody that there is any great collection of cases remaining to be heard, or that these referees have too much work to do or are not able to keep up with their list of cases.

Therefore, Mr. President, under those circumstances, I feel that this is not good legislation and I expect to vote against it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman, the Majority Floor Leader, that the brilliant discussion which he just gave on the bill convinced me. I am going to vote right with him.

I might add, Mr. President, that the representatives of all branches of labor have requested that we vote "no" on this bill and the next bill, Senate Bill No. 381, which is another bill affecting labor, because it does materially damage the case of an unemployed person and may, in many instances, work a hardship against the laboring people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I understand these two bills, Senate Bill No. 380 and Senate Bill No. 381, could be termed so-called sneak bills into the Chesterman Committee Report by antilabor people. For that reason, I, too, will vote against the bills.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this bill covers the same subject as the bill which was defeated earlier today.

L. 681) entitled "An act to enable an incorporated hospital association to acquire by lease or purchase any State owned hospital specially devoted to the reception care and treatment of injured persons or of any State owned general medical and surgical hospital and to provide for the regulation and management thereof" by requiring the trustees of State medical and surgical hospitals to transfer their facilities to local incorporated hospital associations within a specified time discontinuing operation and maintenance by the Commonwealth thereafter and providing for the use of the properties for other State purposes or for the sale thereof

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 387, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 752) entitled "An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing of reclassification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof" by continuing the civil service status of employes administering the Public Assistance Law

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred.)

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his point of information.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I hate to admit it, but I do not know which bill is before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The roll is presently being called on Senate Bill No. 387.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I believe that if we voted for the bills consolidating the departments into a single department, this bill then attempts to protect the civil service status of the employees being transferred. Am I right or wrong, Senator Mahany?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I understand that there is nothing before the Senate now except the roll call. Are we on the roll call, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that we are on the roll call, or somewhere close to it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the Senate I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. I should not have to tell the Senator that he is strictly out of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know it.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no,"

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before the vote is announced, I just wanted to say to the Senate that this bill is necessary because of the Federal restrictions on the Federal contributions to the Department of Public Assistance. This bill maintains the status quo on the civil service ratings of the individuals being transferred from the Department of Public Assistance to the new department created a minute ago. Now, Mr. President, if this bill prevails, then the State's share of the contribution coming from the Federal Government will be denied under Federal statute.

Mr. President, I, personally, do not particularly care for civil service and would vote tomorrow to abolish all of it, but I still have to be hardheaded and use common sense when it come to the welfare of Pennsylvania. I belive that you are making a mistake by voting "no" on this piece of legislation.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator yield? Now, the Chair wishes to be indulgent, but we just cannot flagrantly violate the rules. There is nothing in order here but the roll call. I am compelled, under the Rules of the Senate, to announce the vote. If you wish to recant or do something else, that is another matter. We cannot put a sheepskin on a goat unless we have the wherewithal.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, if I am within the Rules of the Senate, would like to now again change my vote, because I believe I was doubly under a misapprehension.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman has the privilege under the rules to change his vote. Does he wish now to change his vote from "no" to "aye"?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I thought, as the Minority Floor Leader thought, that this was a companion bill. Some of my advisers informed me that it was not, and now I am conviced that the Minority Floor Leader is right and, therefore, I wish to vote "aye."

The PRESIDENT. Now the Senator is very artful. He is going to make a speech. How does the gentleman wish to be recorded?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. BARR. Mr. PRESIDENT, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye."

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Less than a Constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 388, entitled:

An Act creating a commission to study grants made to State-aided medical and surgical hospitals for determining the most equitable methods of calculating such grants prescribing its powers and duties and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I just want to make a short statement on why I am going to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. President, I feel that we have the Joint State Government Commission, which is made up of Members of the House and Senate, and I think that this kind of work is properly within their scope. I feel that if any such study should be made, that this group, or the Appropriations Committee, could make such a study. Therefore, I feel that this is not economy. It is just spending more of the taxpayers' money.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I was going to vote "aye" for this bill, because there is a crying need for an investigation of this type. However, it has been pointed out by the Republican Floor Leader that this matter can be taken care of by a subcommittee of the Joint State Government Commission, and if that is true, then I agree with him that we should save this money and I shall vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred).

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not recall hearing my name called, but I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Schuylkill will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 389, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend portions of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DUNN. RESOLUTION No. 47.

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1953.

From the inception of the Republic, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has always held a commanding leadership among its sister states.

Therefore, the symbolism of a Keystone—to describe this early strategic importance of Pennsylvania—is not merely a rhetorical flourish.

During the critical years that followed the Revolution, when our country was suffering the birth-pangs of a viable existence, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania truly served as a Keystone to impart strength and stability to the democratic arch of incongruous and loosely joined members that became the United States.

Moreover, this tradition of a Keystone role has evolved throughout the intervening years into a still greater reality. For, today, Pennsylvania with her wealth and productivity, with her industrial and agricultural potential, with her transportation facilities and cultural achievements is not only a Keystone in the architectural pattern of the foremost Nation, but has assumed her rightful preeminence among its many states.

This theme of Pennsylvania's Keystone role should not be slighted, nor suppressed. As a Keystone, Pennsylvania is, indeed, an essential part of the broad span of American ideals and culture that arches the flood of present world unrest; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Keystone as a symbol of Pennsylvania's prestige and prominence be reaffirmed; and be it further

Resolved, That this House recommend that the Secretary of Revenue authorize the incorporation of the Keystone in the design of the motor vehicle registration plates to the end that the emblem of the Keystone be widely acepted as symbolic of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

(5) All employes of such city who are now contributors to the retirement fund and all persons who are employed by such city after the effective date of this amendment who are required to become contributors to the retirement fund shall be subject to the provisions of this section

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on the third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. SPEAKER, in connection with House Bill 33, I will make some remarks which could also very well be attributed to House Bills 334 and 335, so that if I am a little bit long, although I hope not too long on this one, it will be because I do not intend to repeat the same argument for the next two bills.

In the first place let me call your attention to the fact that this bill 333 relates to the retirement fund in cities of the first class. We have in Pennsylvania only one city of the first class and that is the city of Philadelphia.

Secondly, let me call your attention to the fact that to the Pennsylvania Constitution, in 1922 an amendment was adopted which permits cities to be given the right to frame and adopt their own charters. Now, pursuant to that provision of the Constitution, in 1949 this Assembly passed an enabling act which provides for first class city home rule, which was subsequently adopted by the people of Philadelphia in April of 1951.

Under the provisions of this Home Rule Act the city of Philadelphia adopted a charter, and in the charter the city provided for a board of pensions and retirement. Now this board has charge of the subject matter which is covered by House Bill 333.

I call your attention to the fact that this House bill was introduced in a similar form in the last session of the Assembly. When it was introduced, it passed the House and it passed the Senate. But it was vetoed by His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania.

If the majority side will permit me I would like to read the Governor's veto. In the 1951 session it was veto message No. 4.

'To the Honorable House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 569, Printer's No. 239, entitled "An Act to further amend the act approved the 24th day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, (P. L. 129) entitled 'An act to empower the boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund, to take property in trust therefor and regulating and providing for the regulation of the same' by providing a method of paying service increments from the retirement fund in cities of the first class to members of the police force after retirement."

The proposed amendment, relating only to cities of the first class, would, in addition to the other retirement benefits provide for a "service increment" allowance. This allowance would be accorded any member who, after reached the age of fifty, and after having completed sufficient prior service to become eligible for retirement, nevertheless continues in active service.

Section 6-600 of the City Charter of Philadelphia vests in a Board of Pensions and Retirement the function of formulating and submitting to city council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive retirement system covering all city employes. I feel that inasmuch as the City Charter of Philadelphia was adopted by the electorate of that city on April 7, 1951, it would be inappropriate for the General Assembly to reassume those powers so recently conferred upon the voters of Philadelphia.

For these reasons the bill is not approved."

Under the Charter the board of Pensions and Retirement,are now working on this very subject matter. There is no quarrel with the benefits which will be given to the policemen under this bill. I understand that these benefits are now enjoyed by the policemen of the city. But as far as the gift to the city by this Assembly for home rule is concerned, I ask the Members of the Assembly to permit the city council of Philadelphia and the city to handle this problem as a local problem, since as the Governor so aptly stated "you have given the city of Philadelphia the opportunity to handle the subject'; why take it away".

I therefore urge you to vote against the bill.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, that I introduced these three bills, which are companion bills, at the request of the officers and directors of the Police Pension Association of Philadelphia.

The principle purpose in requesting me to introduce these bills is simply to give the policemen of Philadelphia who have served our city faithfully and well and are now enjoying some of their thrift and savings contributing to this fund, a little extra insurance.

It is true the home rule city charter act adopted by the people, and there is a board of pensions and retirement incorporated in that act to handle certain pension matters. However, the new administration in the city of Philadelphia was elected approximately fifteen months ago, and certainly with the so-called experts who are affiliated with the administration and supposed to have an important voice in the Police Pension Fund Association, during the last fifteen months they could have done something to satisfy the officers and directors of this fund.

If they had accomplished this I wish to assure every Member that those gentlemen would not be back in Harrisburg to have a bill passed in this session of the General Assembly for that to which they are rightly entitled.

I would like to make it unmistakably clear that these bills should not be controversial. Every Member on both sides of the House can vote in favor of House Bills 333, 334, and 335, because the provisions of these three bills are simply to conform with the bylaws of the Police Pension Fund.

As a matter of fact the provisions of House Bill 333 are in Article X, Section 2, page 32 of the bylaws; 334, are in Article II, Section 2, page 12 of the bylaws; 335, are in Article XI, Section 2, page 38 of the bylaws. It will not cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania one cent, it will not cost any additional money to the taxpayers of Philadelphia if these bills are enacted.

But I wish to assure the Members of the General Assembly that the retired policemen—and there is a large number of those men in the City of Philadelphia—and they have contacted me regularly at my home during the past several weeks and several months, requesting that we enact these bills.

The new Board of Pensions and Retirement in Philadelphia could have granted the provisions of this bill to have them simply comply with the bylaws within a matter of one day in one meting. But for various and unknown reasons they have not seen fit to comply with the wishes of the policemen and their officers and directors in the City of Philadelphia.

I request that every Member on both sides of the House vote in favor of 333 which we are discussing now, and inasmuch as the other two are companion bills, I hope that Mr. Toll will be agreeable to accept the same roll call to eliminate the necessity of wasting time with two extra roll calls.

I ask the Members to vote in favor of these three bills.

Mr. LEDERER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a few brief remarks regarding these three Police Pension Fund bills of Philadelphia.

In the Charter, chapter VI, Board of Pensions and Retirement, Section 6-600, Pensions and Retirement Systems. Within one year after the effective date of this charter, the Board of Pensions and Retirement shall prepare, with the aid of the law department, and submit to the council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive, fair and actuarially sound pension and retirement system covering all officers and employes of the city, except that any system proposed and ordained shall not impair or diminish the rights of officers and employes under any pension or retirement system in force at the time of adoption of this Charter, and except that separate systems shall be maintained for the city policemen and firemen as long as payments by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from funds from taxes paid upon net premiums by foreign casualty and fire insurance companies render it desirable.

Mr. Speaker, I think these three companion bills are very good bills and they do not cost the city of Philadelphia one cent.

Last October, I understand, at the Police Pension Fund meeting in 1951, the Board of Directors, which is composed of the Commissioner of Police, the Deputy Commissioner and all the other directors who are policemen, and four councilmen—one was absent, Jim Finnegan—approved these bills. Therefore, I am asking every Member of this House to vote for these bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is the bill an administration bill?

Mr. WILBUR H . HAMILTON. An administration bill sponsored by His Excellency the Governor, do you mean?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is what I mean.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I did not consult His Excellency the Governor, no.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is this bill a party bill?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. This bill is good legislation, in the interest of the retired policemen of the City of Philadelphia, and the the members of the Republican party and our caucus are going to support the three bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, if this House desires to open the gate to all the controversies that will arise under the Philadelphia Charter, before that Charter gets settled down into its interpretative form, that is all right with me; I have got lots of time.

I have spent a considerable part of my legislative life listening to controversies arising in Philadelphia. It was our fond hope and expectation that when we opened the door, gave Philadelphia the right to frame its Charter, to function on its own, that at long last we had gotten the quarrels of Philadelphia out of our hair. I think that during my tenure here I have spent five years almost—it seems that way, listening to the controversies from Philadelphia largely based upon factional or political dickering. Now if we open the door to this quarrel, and then open the door to some other quarrel and then open the door to another quarrel, when are we going to get rid of this Philadelphia factional quarrelling? We gave them their Charter. It is their business to live under it. If the councilmen do not do their duty under the Charter the people of Philadelphia have their remedy. If the Mayor of Philadelphia does not function under the Charter, impeach him; get rid of him. But, gentlemen, let us not open the door to the quarrels of Philadelphia, quarrels that can be adjudicated under the terms of the Charter that the people of Philadelphia have adopted.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I fully appreciate the position of the Minority Leader, but recently, just in case he did not see this article in the paper, the Attorney General rendered an opinion that the City of Philadelphia is still a county. In Pennsylvania we do not have 66 counties and one city, and I presume just as long as we have 41 Members of the Legislature from Philadelphia, the Minority Leader, whether he enjoys it or not, of course, will have to listen, concentrate and pay attention to bills pertaining to the City of Philadelphia. I realize there are a lot of people who would like to transfer Philadelphia to Camden—give it back to the Indians. However, as long as we are a part of the Commonwealth, I assure the gentleman we will be interested in constructive legislation for the benefit of all the people, regardless of political affiliations.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to assure the gentleman from Philadelphia that we would not part with Philadelphia under any consideration. We love the people of Philadelphia; it is the city of Brotherly Love according to the advertisements of 150 years and I wish to goodness they would begin living up to their prospectus.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NAYS—1

NOT VOTING—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 608, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article five section thirteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by further providing for the disposition of fees fines and penalties in magistrates courts in Philadelphia

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article five section thirteen of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 13 All fees fines and penalties is said courts excepting those which by law are made payable elsewhere shall be paid into the city treasury

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill, and I ask the support of the Members of the House in voting it down. House Bill 608 is an amendment to the Constitution which will cost Philadelphia some money. Philadelphia is different from the other counties in that we have elected magistrates. Those magistrates are on salaries which are fixed. They are not allowed to engage in any other occupation or business.

Article 5, Section 12 of the Constitution, from which I quote states

> They shall be compensated wholly by fixed salaries to be paid by said county and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided as is now exercised by the Aldermen.

In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished. This section immediately precedes Section 13, which provides that all funds collected by the magistrates shall be turned over to the City, because the law provides that the City must pay these magistrates a fixed salary. The Constitution of 1874 provides that the money collected by these magistrates shall be turned over to the City. The magistrates' budgets for 1953 totals $785,000. This includes personnel, rents, and miscellaneous money for records and forms.

Besides this money which is spent, there is also in the Police Department, $407,000 more, which is necessary to keep these magistrates' courts in operation. They handle the traffic violations. Now we do not in Philadelphia get enough money from these magistrates' courts, which would otherwise be carried over to the state to provide for these magistrates. So, in all fairness, if we are going to eliminate Philadelphia from collecting this money, we should also eliminate the necessity of paying fixed salaries to magistrates, and put them on a fee basis, the same as all the other aldermen throughout the state.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. White.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The gentleman from Philadelphia states that the budget for the Magistrates courts are for seven hundred and some odd thousand dollars?

Mr. WHITE. That is correct, $785,000.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Does the gentleman have any information on the amount of fines which are collected through their offices and turned over to the county?

Mr. WHITE. Yes, I have. It is approximately $2 million.

Mr. TOMPKINS. In the neighborhood of $2 million. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the question may arise as to why I, as a representative of a small rural county should have introduced such a bill as this. I think it will become apparent in the course of my discussion why this was done.

You have just heard the gentleman from Philadelphia state that fines collected in Philadelphia amount to $2 million. I do not know how many of those fines apply to fines under city ordiances, and how many apply to fines under state laws, but the other sixty-six counties of the state, the other four-fifths of the population of the State, turn in their pure food fines, their agricultural fines, motor vehicle fines, fish and game fines, and so forth. According to the official budget figures for the biennium of 1947 to 1949, the fines amounted to $1,755,791.76. For the biennium of 1949 to 1951 they amounted to $1,990,571.26. For the biennium of 1951 to 1953, the estimated amount is given at $1,759,875. The fines from the other four-fifths of the state apparently do not equal the fines which are collected in the City of Philadelphia alone. The budget for the magistrates courts in Philadelphia is a little over $700,000. This provision was not in any previous Constitution which we had in the state of Pennsylvania. Why it was put in this one, I do not know. I have not been able to find the reason for that.

However, you might be interested to know what brought this about. As you travel throughout the rest of the state where merchants in business in other parts of the state have been violating the Pure Food Laws, of course, they are brought before a justice of the peace or an alderman, and they are fined, and the fines are remitted to the state. The same thing in a great number of motor vehicle violations. Why the City of Philadelphia should be exempt from paying their share to the state, I do not know. Nevertheless, that is how the Constitution reads, and therefore as long as that provision is in the Constitution, we will have to abide by it.

On January 30, 1950, I wrote to Honorable Charles R. Barber, State Treasurer,

> I would appreciate it very much if you could furnish me with information as to the fines turned into the treasury for fish violations which occurred and were prosecuted in the County of Philadelphia, for the year of 1948-1949.

You may wonder why I inquired about fish fines. Well, there are plenty of fish stocked in the County of Philadelphia by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, and there is plenty of fishing done down in that county. There are fish violations which occur, which, when they do occur, are paid into the County of Philadelphia, and which in the other 66 counties are paid into the Fish Fund of the State.

Under date of February 3, 1950, Mr. Barber replied:

> "I asked Mr. Arthur K. Fickling, Director of our Bureau of Securities, Receipts and Deposits, to get you the information you requested, and I am enclosing a copy of his memorandum, which appears to be self-explanatory."

The note of Mr. Fickling states:

> This office has been advised by George A. Nally, Comptroller of the State Department of Revenue, that the Commonwealth did not receive any fish fines originating in the City or County of Philadelphia during the fiscal years ended May 31, 1948, and May 31, 1949. Sections 12 and 13 of Article 5 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania with respect to Magistrates' Courts, provides, that all * * * fines and penalties * * * shall be paid into the County Treasury. For this reason such fines do not come into the State Treasury.

The Supreme Court in Commonwealth v. McGuirk, 78 Pa. 298, held that this provision did not apply to Courts of Record, but only to the Courts of Police and Civil Causes" to be established under section 12 of this article.

The case of Commonwealth v. Randall, 10 Phila. 451; 2 W.N.C. 210, apparently the only case reviewing this provision of the Constitution, where the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals sought to have a fine turned over to it, under an act of 1871, instead of into the Treasury of Philadelphia County, held in directing the fine to be paid into the County Treasury:

> The language of the Constitution is so express, comprehensive and unqualified that no room seems to be left for interpretation. When the Constitution says "all fines and penalties" collected in these courts shall be paid into the County Treasury, we cannot interpolate any exception which is not found in the instrument itself.

Under date of February 6, 1950, I wrote to Honorable C. A. French, Fish Commissioner:

> I have just learned that all fines and penalties imposed in Magistrate's Courts in the City and County of Philadelphia are payable to the Philadelphia County Treasurer, including fish fines.
> From your prosecution reports from the City and County of Philadelphia could you inform me the number of prosecutions entered and the total fines imposed in the City and County of Philadelphia for the fiscal years ended May 31, 1948 and May 31, 1949.

Under date of February 9, 1950, Mr. French replied and this is important:

> During 1949 we received the first fine in our history from an arrest made in Philadelphia County, and this was the only prosecution made there during 1949. The magistrate who "broke the ice" in allowing us this fine told our officer that, if the magistrate group in Philadelphia would agree to send all fish fines to the Fish Commission, that it would be legal to do so. Our officer has been there a number of times, and we are trying to work out such an agreement, and if successful all future fines for fish violations in Philadelphia County will be sent to the Fish Commission.

Apparently such an arrangement was worked out, as I find the following information in the Auditor General's office for fish fines received from magistrates in Philadelphia:

July 9, 1951 ..... $25.00
October 20, 1951 ..... $25.00

I should like to make the following inquiries:

1. In the face of this Constitutional provision, by what authority did the magistrates of Philadelphia agree to turn over the fish fines to the Fish Commission?

2. Why did it take the magistrates all these years to find out that such an arrangement could be made?

3. If it can be done in the case of fish fines, why cannot it be done in all other cases where it is provided by law that fines be paid into the state?

4. In the face of this Constitutional provision, by what authority did the Fish Commission, which is supposed to be a branch of the Executive Department of our Government, have, to enter into any such arrangement for the receipt of fish fines?

5. Why did the Fish Commission sleep on its rights all these years, if such an arrangement could be made?

6. If it can be done in the case of fish fines, then why did the Fish Commission not pass this good information along to the other Executive Branches of the Government?

If it can be done in that case, I am trying to make it legal so it can be done in all cases, including this case, which seems to be on an unconstitutional ground.

For that reason I ask that in response to the invitation which I have heard from various members of Philadelphia County in the last several weeks on the floor of this House, that they be invited in as a part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in this respect.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask permission to interrogate the previous speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, for the edification of this House, can the gentleman tell us how justices of the peace are paid?

Mr. TOMPKINS. On a fee basis.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Could the gentleman tell us how the magistrates in the City of Philadelphia are paid?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I understand on a salary basis.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Does the gentleman know who pays the salary?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I understand the County of Philadelphia.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. That is correct, sir. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, in Philadelphia the magistrates receive no fees as they do in other counties. They receive a salary which is paid by the County of Philadelphia. The salary and all other expenses, as you have heard from Mr. White a few minutes ago, come out of these fees which go into the City Treasury.

The amendment to the Constitution as proposed might be justified on the basis that the other 66 counties operate in a certain way, but certainly is not justified if there is not some provision put in the amendment which will provide for the payment of magistrates of the County of Philadelphia after these fines are taken away from the county.

Unfortunately the amendment does not do anything like that. What the amendment would do would be to take all the money away and leave the City of Philadelphia in a position where they would have to find the sum of $1 million to pay the magistrates of the city.

Mr. Tompkins' discussion about fish made this sound like a fish bill. If he would concentrate and think for a moment about all the corporate taxes that are paid by the City of Philadelphia, he would realize that Philadelphia is a little different than the other counties in this state. We say that it is manifestly unfair to take away this revenue from the City of Philadelphia without putting some provision in this amendment to pay all the expenses of the magisterial system in the city.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the magistrates from the City of Pittsburgh, how do they receive their remuneration?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, they are paid by the City of Pittsburgh. The magistrates of the City of Pittsburgh are paid by the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in the case where they collect fines which are payable to the state, where do they pay the fines?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, if it is set up in the state code that that particular fine should go to the state, it goes to the state Department of Revenue. These fines must be returned by the 10th of every month.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. Speaker, the previous speaker made some mention of the revenues which Philadelphia turns into the State Treasury. Of course, all the rest of the 66 counties likewise turn revenues into the State Treasury. What we are trying to do is to make uniform the practice in that respect.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to clarify one point in connection with the presentation of the argument made by my highly esteemed colleague, Mr. White of Philadelphia. I want to point out that where he said the income to the city from fines is $2 million and the expenses for the magistrates system is about three quarters of a million—that does not mean that we make a million and a quarter profit which is not paid by the other areas of Pennsylvania, because the fines which we collect include traffic fines, and certain traffic fines are kept by Philadelphia and kept by the political subdivisions of every county in Pennsylvania as is provided in the Vehicle Code. The Vehicle Code says that "all fines and penalties collected under the provisions of this act for the violation of the same shall be paid to the Department and transferred to the state treasury and credited to the General Fund, except those collcted for violations of provisions of the following sections."

Now in Philadelphia with two million people, just imagine how many fines we collect under section 903, weight of vehicles and loads; 905, permits for excessive size and weight; 1002, restrictions as to speed; 1011, turning at intersections; 1016, stop intersections; 1018, driving through safety zones; 1020, prohibitive parking; 1026, traffic signal interpretation.

I call your attention to the fact that under these sections the other municipal divisions and the boroughs and the townships collect their own fines. So, under the circumstances, I would say that we spend as much money as we take in from the other types of violations and I feel that as long as it has been in the Constitution since 1874 you ought to let it alone.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to call to the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia that even though this has been in the Constitution since 1874, it was first the magistrates in Philadelphia themselves who began to tinker with it. That is how we first found out about it. Now we are trying to make it legal, if at all possible.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that we now go to a vote and that we all vote "no."

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, when a request is made for a verification of the roll are not the doors of the House automatically closed?

The SPEAKER. No. The Constitution requires that the sessions of the House be kept open.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, what is now before the House for its consideration?

The SPEAKER. The next bill on the calendar, House Bill No. 612, Printer's No. 114.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the Speaker for the fast action and I will not make the move that I intended to make originally.

However, a further point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, to prevent future recurrences of, shall we say, delay in the procedure of the House, and for the proper expediting of business before the House, are we to take verification of absentee Members in the same order as we have today? Will that be a standing practice?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not quite understand what the gentleman means.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, in questioning the vote of a Member on the floor, there are various parliamentary procedures which we can go through which will, of course, necessitate lengthening the sessions of the days to come. Now in questioning the presence or absence of Members on the floor, are we to accept as procedure the practice we have instituted today?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read part of Rule 80 of the House, for the information of the Members.

> . . . Any Member may challenge in writing the vote or votes of Members who are recorded as voting. If the vote so challenged would change the result the announcement of the vote shall be postponed by the Speaker until the allegations made shall have been investigated when, if necessary, the roll shall be corrected and the true result announced by the Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand that this challenge in writing is to be made before the vote is announced?

The SPEAKER. The challenge should be submitted to the Chair under Rule 80, before the result of the vote is announced.

Mr. PETROSKY. That is what I meant, Mr. Speaker, originally when I said that fast action prevented me from making such a move. I thank you.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when two reputable

Members of the House say that a Member was in his seat and voting, and two equally reputable Members of the House say they were observing that particular situation and that he was not in his seat and not in the Hall of the House, what is the procedure, if in the future, such a situation should develop?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the gentleman, the Chair would state that a Member does have the right before the result is announced to challenge a vote in writing. He has the right to challenge the vote and an investigation will be made and a report made to the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how would that determine the pending issue? Would the investigation made by the Speaker be prior to announcing the decision, or would it be a subsequent action in which witnesses would be summoned and an investigation made?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that it would be a subsequent action and if the result was different the true result would be announced by the Chair at a future date.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the Chair to say that the Chair would investigate and take testimony?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would endeaver to get all the facts and submit them to the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Chair for the clarification of the procedure in such an instance.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 612, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 275) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this State into three classes with respect to their population and designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification thereof in accordance therewith" by classifying cities into five classes and providing for the government of second class B cities

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 275) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this State into three classes with respect to their population and designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification thereof in accordance therewith" as amended by the act approved the ninth day of March one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 18) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That for the purpose of legislation regulating their municipal affairs the exercise of certain corporate powers and having respect to the number character powers and duties of certain officers thereof the cities now in existence and those hereafter created in this Commonwealth shall be divided into [four] five classes

Those containing a population of one million or over shall constitute the first class

Those containing a population of five hundred thousand and under one million shall constitute the second class

Those containing a population of one hundred and thirty-five thousand and under five hundred thousand shall constitute the second class A

Those containing a population of one hundred and twenty thousand and under one hundred and thirty-five thousand shall constitute the second class B

Those containing a population under one hundred and [thirty-five] twenty thousand shall constitute the third class

Section 2 Section 2 of said act as last amended by the act approved the sixteenth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1239) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 The classification of said cities respectively to determine whether they shall advance in classification shall be ascertained and fixed by reference to their population according to the last preceding United States census and whereever it shall appear by any such census that any city of the second second A second B or third class has attained a population entitling it to an advance in classification as herein prescribed it shall be the duty of the Governor under the great seal of this Commonwealth to certify the fact accordingly which certificate shall be entered at large upon the minutes of the councils of such city and recorded in the office for recording the deeds of the proper county

The classification of said cities respectively to determine whether they shall regress in classification shall be ascertained and fixed by reference to the last two preceding United States decennial censuses and whenever it shall appear by both of such censuses that any city of the first second [or] second A or second B class has decreased in population below the minimum population figures prescribed for its current classification it shall be the duty of the Governor under the great seal of the Commonwealth to certify the fact accordingly which certificate shall be entered at large upon the minutes of the councils of such city and recorded in the office for recording the deeds of the proper county

It is the intent of the preceding paragraph that the classification of any city of the first second [and] second class A and second class B shall not be changed because its population was below the minimum figure for its class at the time of one United States decennial census because it is recognized that a change in the form of a municipal government is attended by certain expense and hardship and such change should not be occasioned by a temporary fluctuation in population but rather only after it is demonstrated by two censuses that the population of a city has remained below the minimum figure of its class for at least a decade

At the municipal election occurring not less than one month after the date of such certificate the proper officers shall be elected to which the said city will become entitled under the change in classification and upon the first Monday of April next ensuing the terms of all officers of said city then in office whose offices are superseded by reason thereof shall cease and determine and the city government shall be duly organized and shall thereafter be controlled and regulated by the laws of this Commonwealth applicable to the same under the classification hereby fixed and appointed

Until otherwise provided by law cities of the second class A shall continue to be governed and shall have all the powers privileges and prerogatives now provided by the laws of the Commonwealth relating to cities of the second class

Until otherwise provided by law cities of the second class B shall continue to be governed and shall have all the powers privileges and prerogatives now provided by the laws of the Commonwealth relating to cities of the third class

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I desire to make a brief statement with reference to the passing of the revenue bills.

Mr. Speaker, we of course interpose no objection to House Bill No. 908 and the other revenue bills being passed over. But we would counsel a hesitant majority to take counsel of its fears, screw its courage to the sticking point, make the ultimate bitter choice, and either proceed to hang itself or to hang the bill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. OHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I might say by way of explanation we have a tax program on the calendar which we of the leadership feel will adequately arrange the financial affairs of this Commonwealth for many years to come if it is enacted into law.

We are passing over the bills this week to give some of the members of our caucus additional opportunity to go over the bills as amended, talk to their people back home, give the people of Pennsylvania a chance to think more about what we are trying to do in bringin about a balanced financial structure for this great state. Putting the bills over will give us more time to study the budget, to study any further cuts that we think we might be able to make in the budget. We have already announced some budget cuts.

We on the majority side are acting in the greatest amount of good faith in trying to do the job that the people of Pennsylvania expect us to do. Therefore we are passing over our tax program. If the sales tax program should pass, there are certain bills on the calendar which of course should not be passed, which will be dropped by the wayside.

Therefore until we have the entire picture settled, until the people have had a chance to hear about this program, we are passing over the program this week.

Mr. ANDREWS. May I have the privilege of interrogating the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is the Majority Leader prepared to submit for the consideration of the public, and the consideration of the House as a whole, a schedule of the bills he intends not to call in the event the sales tax bill passes?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am really not prepared to state at this time, by reason of the fact that there are some who might favor a two percent sales tax bill and get rid of all the so-called nuisance taxes, the so-called hodgepodge tax program that we put on last session. There are some thinking about a one percent sales tax and keeping those nuisance taxes.

I am not prepared until the thinking is crystallized to say just which of the bills will be dropped. The Minority Leader and the people of Pennsylvania know what taxes we put on last session. Until the thinking has been crystallized we are not prepared to state with particularity just what bills will be dropped.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Majority Leader, and I would conclude by suggesting the inexpediency of passing tax legislation with 102 Members of the majority actually present and voting.

BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 413, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by abolishing the Department of Mines transferring the powers and duties of the Department of Mines and the Secretary of Mines to the Department of Labor and Industry and the Secretary of Labor and Industry eliminating certain duties of the Department of Labor and Industry relating to the prevention of industrial accidents to persons and making appropriations

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this is the bill which would abolish the Department of Mines, and transfer its powers and duties to the Department of Labor and Industry.

Mr. President, I feel that certainly the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which is historically a great mining State, should assuredly have a Secretary of Mines in the Governor's Cabinet. Also, this bill would not effect any economies. It would take just as much money to operate this particular bureau if it were within the Department of Labor and Industry, as it would if it were a separate department.

Mr. President, I think this particular industry is important enough to have a Secretary of Mines and, therefore, I am going to vote "no" on this particular bill and also ask my colleagues to vote "no".

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the Democratic Caucus is in accord with the statement made by the Majority Floor Leader. We also feel that the Department of Mines is entitled to their own bureau, and we shall also vote to oppose this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 417, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and other commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by transferring to the Department of Forests and Waters the powers and duties of the Department of Health relating to water pollution the powers and duties of the Department of Internal Affairs relating to the conduct of the topographic and geologic survey the powers and duties of the Department of Highways relating to management and development of the roadside within the right of way of State highways transferring the Sanitary Water Board from the Department of Health to the Department of Forests and Waters and constituting it a departmental administrative board in such department and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to oppose Senate Bill No. 417, Printer's No. 136, because this bill would transfer the Sanitary Water Board from the Department of Health to the Department of Forests and Waters.

Mr. President, the Sanitary Water Board is largely concerned with the purity of our streams and, therefore, it is closely related to the Department of Health and should be under its jurisdiction. I am fearful that if the Sanitary Water Board were placed under the jurisdiction of the Department of Forests and Waters, instead of being concerned with the purity of the streams, it might tend to make regulations which would be of benefit to other groups other than those who are interested in purity and health.

Also, Mr. President, I cannot see where it would effect any economy. It would cost just as much to operate this department under the Department of Forests and Waters as it now costs to operate it under the Department of Health.

Therefore, Mr. President, I oppose this bill, and would ask my colleagues to vote "no" on it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Floor Leader Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, did the Chesterman Committee mention any specified amount which would be saved in the event this transfer were made?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know. Each one of these measures usually represented some saving. I cannot tell you offhand right now how much they had on this one. I would have to consult my report, but I do not have it here with me right now.

Mr. LANE. However, they did mention a specified amount. Is that true?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know about that on this particular one. They had a specified amount in connection with each one of these but I cannot prove it right now as to whether they had one on this particular one. It is my understanding that they suggested a saving on each one of their recommendations, but unless I had my report here, I could not answer you. If you would like to take a recess until I get my report, I will refer to it.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, Senator Mahany.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in referring to the Report of the Government Survey Committee, I can find no place in it where it says that this will effect any economy. It evidently was a recommendation because they thought it might improve efficiency, and because they recommended that we merge the Department of Health with the Department of Public Assistance and Welfare. Therefore, if that merger took place, they felt that this particular board should be transferred to the Department of Forests and Waters.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the statements made by the Majority Leader, that he admits the Chesterman Committee thought it might improve efficiency, therefore, I recommend that we vote "aye" on this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Camiel,	Lane,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Leader,	Ruth,	Weiner,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 418, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred tweny-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commission and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by transferring to the Department of State certain powers and duties of the Department of Internal Affairs and Department of Forests and Waters and the boards of such deparments administering certain of such transferred powers and duties

And said bill having been read a length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 418, Printer's No. 137, would be necessary if the Senate had passed the bill to abolish the Department of Internal Affairs. Inasmuch as the bill to abolish the Department of Internal Affairs did not pass the Senate, then this bill is not necessary, and would only serve to deplete further the powers and duties of that particular Department of Internal Affairs.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am voting "no" on Senate Bill No. 418, and ask by colleagues to vote "no" also.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, as a point of information, this bill should be dropped from the Calendar and not voted upon, because we killed the bill on which it depends.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that if the Senator wishes to vote "no," it will fall quite heavily from the Calendar.

And the question recurring,

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The President. Is there objection The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LETZLER AND PEELOR offered the following concurrent resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining:

In the Senate, April 15, 1953.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability;

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment;

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent;

Whereas, Pressure that comes from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-1948 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific apparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom thus contained; and

perous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. KESSLER and WADE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 489, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1330 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools, amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by further regulating compulsory attendance of pupils.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in common with most of the citizens of Pennsylvania and most members of this General Assembly, I am gravely concerned about the financial situation in which we now find ourselves.

If reports are correct, and I assume they are, the House of Representatives has reached a state of deadlock so far as a tax program is concerned. The Democrats, we are advised, oppose, as a unit, the passage of a sales tax, and the Republicans are divided and unable to muster a Constitutional majority to pass this proposed broad based tax.

In all humility, as a veteran member of this Legislature, I would like today to make an appeal to my fellow members in both Houses to make an earnest, sincere, nonpolitical effort to solve Pennsylvania's financial troubles and adjourn.

Mr. President, in general, I direct my appeal to all the Members of the House and Senate, but specifically I address myself to my colleagues, Senator Taylor, President pro-tempore, Senator Mahany, the Majority Leader, Senator Dent, the Minority Leader, and Representative Charles Smith, Speaker of the House, Majority Leader, Al Johnson and my old friend of long standing, Representative Hy Andrews, the Minority Leader of the House. These men, in my opinion, hold the fate of Pennsylvania in their hands. All Members of the House and the Senate hold these men in the very highest regard. Senator M. Harvey Taylor has had the honor of serving as President pro-tem of this body longer than any other man in history.

Senator Mahany was elected to the House of Representatives in 1942, re-elected in 1944 and is serving his second four-year term here in the Senate. The fact that we have elected him as our Majority Leader is ample evidence of the esteem in which Republican members of the Senate hold him. Senator Dent has been a Member of this Senate since 1936. He is the undisputed leader of the Democratic contingent of this body, a man of courage and integrity.

Over in the House, Charlie Smith has been a Member since 1944. He worked his way up to the leadership of the party in the House, and his career reached its temporary culmination this Session, when he was named Speaker. I know of no one in public life who is more respected and admired by his colleagues. The distinguished gentleman from McKean County, Representative Johnson, the Majority Leader of the House, has served since 1947, also with distinction and credit.

Hy Andrews was first elected to the House in 1933, and I had the honor of serving with him at that time. He has been the Minority Floor Leader for the last four terms. He probably exercises more influence with more Members than any other individual in the House. His wit and wisdom are appreciated by both Parties.

These men, all of them chosen to serve in positions of responsibility—more especially in days when old established courses are being changed, when many of our citizens are asking to have new courses charted, when mounting governmental costs are more than ever of deep concern to all the taxpayers, when State services are questioned by some, and demanded by others—are the ones we must look to for direction and decision, and we believe them to be sincere and devoted to the best interest of all people of Pennsylvania.

I ask these six gentlemen to closet themselves in a room somewhere, forget that they are Republicans or Democrats, forget that they don't entirely agree on budget figures, forget all about the last and the next political campaign, draw a tax program upon which all can agree.

Mr. President, I shall not rehash all that happened at our last Session of the Legislature, but I would like to remind the Members of the House and the Senate that we were in Session until Christmas and our activities reflected no credit upon us individually or our great State, nor its Government, nor its Legislative bodies.

Let us not go through that again. In singling out Messrs. Taylor, Mahany, Dent, Smith, Johnson and Andrews, I mean no reflection upon our other stalwart leaders in the House and Senate, Senator Berger, Senator Hare, Senator Ruth and many others.

I single them out because I sincerely believe that a small group could, within a period of twenty-four hours, settle all our problems, save our great Commonwealth from threatened financial breakdown and the utter confusion that would follow. As my humble personal contribution to their deliberations, may I suggest that there is absolutely no question that new taxes are necessary.

Four years ago, I stood here on the Floor of the Senate and voted against certain ambitious schemes which were approved by large majorities of my colleagues, both Republicans and Democrats. Huge appropriations were voted to cleanse our streams. I have been for clean streams for two decades, but everybody knows now that most of that money was spent on one river, the Schuylkill. A worthy project, no doubt, but what about the Susquehanna, the Allegheny, the Monongahela, the Juniata, and the Ohio and all the other rivers in this great Commonwealth.

Admiral Draemel will go down in history as a great conservationist, but what a fantastic proposition it was to spend millions, contributed by all the taxpayers, toward cleaning up one single solitary river.

In other phases of the clean stream program, we have done well and our citizens are grateful and appreciative. Without huge expenditures, we stopped dumping industrial wastes, mine wastes, and sewage wastes into our streams to help restore nature's great outdoors as the ideal recreational spots they were originally, a laudable undertaking.

Mr. President, remember the Boys' Camp at Indiantown Gap? We borrowed that idea from some countries in Europe, who have not gotten along so well, and it cost a pretty penny, which we all wish were in the State Treasury today.

Again, I voted against the equally fantastic public housing dream, and I voted against the public authority bills, which were a device to get around the State's Constitutional debt limitations.

Mr. President, in our current budget we have almost $90,000,000 for debt service and authority rentals. However, I did vote for the increased cost of education, which, after all, is the big item in our present financial dilemma. I also voted for the soldiers' bonus, but I opposed, in committee and publicly, the shortsighted policy of paying out these huge sums of money without making any provision for raising that money in the only way it can be raised, by taxation.

Now, that's just so much history. Today, we are faced with paying off those obligations. I believe in people paying their debts, and I believe in governments paying their debts.

His Excellency, Governor John S. Fine, did not incur these obligations. When he was campaigning for election, he didn't even know what a pyramid of debts he was to inherit. His information, of course, came from people who thought that through some financial wizardry the money would appear out of thin air.

Let's face it. Governor Fine, in his message on January 22 to the Joint Session, told us some hard facts which all too many of us have either forgotten or disregarded. More than half of the entire General Fund Budget of $1,004,000,000 must be provided for education. Now, gentlemen, we can talk all we want to about economy and pruning and taking the fat out of the budget, and we are giving that the aggressive, diligent, careful, determined, positive attention it should have and will continue to get, but we still have to meet those 486 million dollars of State subsidies for education. There is no avoiding it. The people of Pennsylvania will not stand for reducing teachers' salaries, closing schools and depriving the children of Pennsylvania of their birthright.

Now, we arrive at what I believe to be our most momentous problem or decision, and it has been a much discussed and debated issue in recent weeks. The prepondering question is, "How much for education at the State level," and "How much at local or district level?" Taking from my mail the correspondence written by those directly affected, my guess is the rest of it will balance in the scales. None agree that all should be raised locally or State-wide. Leave letters from those directly affected in, and it is decidely in favor of raising money at the State level and in favor of any State tax measure suggested to provide the funds, but that's not too important.

I repeat, Mr. President, the youth of Pennsylvania, the citizens of tomorrow, must have top educational opportunities, and only a top educational system will give it to them. No second rate system will suffice to prepare them for the problems of our promising and interesting world, problems of international government, peaceful we all hope, problems brought on by civilization's greatest industrial, commercial, financial and scientific age and problems of atomic power and development. The best education and training is truly their birthright.

Some letters I receive question the "frills" in education, the large auditoriums and gymnasiums in new buildings; others the right of the State to participate in providing schools for those under six; others say, "money would be more judiciously spent by local districts if raised by local districts," while others say real estate is overburdened, and I agree.

May I remind you of three factors which have contributed heavily to this problem?

(1) The sharp increase in the number of young folks coming of school age.
(2) The necessity to keep teachers' salaries abreast of what they could earn elsewhere.
(3) The need for new buildings and equipment because of the increase in children, obsolete structures no longer safe or adequate and shifts in population or population increases.

The question of minor importance, therefore, Mr. President, after we determine that each tax dollar is judiciously spent is: "From what level shall the money come," and this discussion is now brought in after the last several Legislatures have, to say the least, adopted what many consider a questionable legislative practice by mandating future salaries and increments, and have produced a pattern of subsidies that, I repeat, pose a major State level financial problem.

I propose to introduce today a Joint Resolution to amend the Constitution, to the end that all receipts from any broad based tax which we may enact shall be returned to local school districts for educational purposes. I propose that even the cost of collection of new taxation for education shall be paid out of other State revenue. The bill now in the House provides that the proceeds be earmarked for education. Education can mean appropriations to the four State-aided universities, maintenance of schools for the deaf and dumb, appropriations to State Teachers' Colleges and many other contributions which the State makes.

Mr. President, the Joint Resolution I will introduce provides that all the proceeds be allocated direct to the school districts, in accordance with our subsidy obligations to them.

In his message to us last January, Governor Fine pointed out that the State now pays 42% of the total cost of our schools, and under existing legislation, which we so generously enacted without thought of who was going to pay the piper, there will be 22% increase during the next biennium.

I have it on reliable authority that the Federal Government, under the new Administration, plans some rather severe reductions in educational subsidies, such as for vocational training, and that means that even more than Governor Fine has recommended must be raised at either the State or local level, or the services eliminated.

About 30% of the entire General Fund Budget is for public health, assistance and welfare. Certainly, we want stricter supervision of public assistance grants all down the line, and we are going to get some economies in that direction, but those economies are "peanuts" compared with the entire budget, or even our State educational budget.

I am not a pessimist, but in recent days we have heard on the Floor of this Senate that business is bad in certain areas of our State and is getting no better fast. That means increases in public assistance. I predict that no matter how many economies are effected, you are going to have increases in some items of the budget, we always have had.

Every Member of the General Assembly is agreed that we must increase the pay of State employes. I personally am for a flat $250 a year raise for every employee receiving less than $5,000 a year, but I am also in favor of dropping every drone from the payroll, and I am informed we do have some drones. Governor Fine has already taken a step in the right direction by issuing orders against the personal use of State cars. I think that he might go even farther and insist that Capitol workers work five full days a week. The people of Pennsylvania will have a lot more faith and confidence in their State government if all the people on the State payroll work as hard and as long as the average worker outside.

As a result of the run around the General Assembly gave Governor Fine last Session on the flat income tax, he has declined to make any recommendations to this Session. I think, however, he owes it to the people to tell them, over and over again, how much of the tax money, which the State collects, goes back to local governments to provide the services they demand. I think he ought to tell the people that if new taxes are not forthcoming, the whole machinery of our State and local government is going to be in danger of collapse. Teachers will not teach if they are not paid. Hospitals will not care for the sick if the money is not forthcoming from somewhere. We cannot operate our mental institutions, or even our prisons, without cash for food, salaries and daily running expenses. I think, too, it is now time for His Excellency, Governor Fine, to use the standing and influence of his high office toward enacting a fiscal program to continue services properly expected by so many people from our Commonwealth.

Mr. President, we keep talking about increasing the number of State Police in order to cut down accidents, but we cannot even pay our present force a living wage unless money is forthcoming.

Now, I have heard that certain members of the Legislature are willing to go along with a 1% sales tax, but not 2%, and the insinuation is that if a 2% sales tax is passed, Governor Fine would have a surplus and money to add a lot of political people to the payrolls. This is errant nonsense. The Governor cannot spend anymore money than we appropriate unless he runs up deficiencies, and the Legislature can and has served notice here and now that it will not approve any deficiencies, and we should continue to make this amply clear and positive to every Department Head.

Governor Fine's Tax Study Committee reported to us that forty-two States have either a sales or an income tax, 19 have both and Pennsylvania has neither.

Mr. President, we have been spending millions of dollars through the Department of Commerce, which we voted to abolish, to attract business to this State. How can we expect business to gravitate to Pennsylvania when business taxes in Pennsylvania amount to 42%, some say 52%, of our State revenue, compared with 30% for New York, 15% for California and 11.6% for Illinois? Their manufactured products are sold in markets everywhere in direct competition with our own products.

This is enough of my personal views on the tax picture. I repeat my plea that Messrs. Taylor, Mahany, Dent, Smith, Johnson and Andrews get together on a nonpolitical, unbiased, sensible program which we can pass.

Mr. President, I am offering this bill for a Constitutional amendment, under which all the proceeds of any new broad based tax shall be returned to the local school districts to be expended for educational purposes exclusively, under existing subsidy practices and laws.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WADE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 490, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by requiring payment of preceeds of general sales taxes to school districts for public school purposes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

Mr. FREED read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 491, entitled:

An Act establishing the Pennsylvania Recreation Commission and its Advisory Council; determining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we listened to the learned Senator from Cumberland, Senator Wade, review some of the history of the Pennsylvania State Legislature and try to give the reasons for the present plight in which we find ourselves.

First of all, Mr. President, I want to rule out any possibility of my entering any closet or closed chamber, because I had the sad experience two years ago of trying to do that and I ended up being on the sorry end of a sad spectacle. Therefore, Mr. President, I do not intend to enter into any agreements, as much as I admire the gentlemen with whom he would like to closet me. I will be glad to go into a closet for social purposes, and maybe sit around and talk about the ball game, but when it comes to legislative action, I intend to do all my talking from this position.

Mr. President, in order that Senator Wade and the rest of the Senators may not be under any misapprehensions as to the duties and the proper place for the Minority to be in, I want to review also, without the benefit of having had time to prepare. I will depend a great deal upon my own memory and upon some facts which I believe are fairly well imprinted upon the minds of the Members of this Senate who have been here over a few years.

First of all, Mr. President, let us go back. The Democratic Party came into power in 1935. I was privileged to be a member of that party, and a Member of that General Assembly. I think it was well put when someone said that we entered at a bad time, and left at a fairly good time. We came in the door when the cupboard was bare, and we left it pretty well provided. If you will all remember, and just close your eyes for a minute and allow me to take you back to the conditions in which we found ourselves in 1935.

Mr. President, we found at that time that business and industry were at a virtual standstill. We found that the farmers were burning their produce; farm mortgages were being foreclosed; millions and millions of people were unemployed and walking the streets; banks were closing every day; and farms were being sold. A great stream of American businessmen and bankers went down to Washington, and upon their hands and knees begged the Federal Government to do something about it, even, if necessary, to take over their businesses.

Mr. President, the Democratic Party at that time, under that great leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt, did something about it. The next one hundred days of that period became historical. The American people again took courage, and we started to make the hard climb back.

In 1935, Mr. President, in the midst of this depression, the Democratic Party took over in this great Commonwealth. What were we faced with? We were faced with thousands of unemployed. We were faced with the problem of creating new revenues in order to meet the emergencies of the day. At that time, in spite of all the protests and criticism, we passed the necessary tax legislation to feed the people of Pennsylvania who needed fed; to clothe the people of Pennsylvania who needed clothed; and to house those who needed housed. We had the courage, politically, to do so.

In 1938, Mr. President, with the help of a great deal of propaganda, the Democratic Party was turned out of office in this Commonwealth. They had the courage to pass the legislation to meet the demands of the day. What happened from then on?

In 1939, Governor James came into office, Mr. President. In spite of whatever criticism you may have of the little man from up in Luzerne, he did keep the so-called emergency taxes, although he had run on a platform to wipe them out. From 1938 until this day, every election campaign has heard the Republicans get out the huskings, and say that they would wipe out the unnecessary taxes in this Commonwealth.

Then, Mr. President, a man by the name of Martin came along. What was his first move? He came to the Senate of Pennsylvania with a proposition. We had approximately $48,000,000 worth of surplus moneys in the Commonwealth. He turned around and took the surplus moneys of this Commonwealth and paid off the debt of the General State Authority, against the advice of the Democratic Minority. We pointed out, at that time, that within the decade we would rue the day we took such unsound financial advice from the front office. Further than that, if you will remember, he also wiped out certain taxes which were placed on by the Earle Administration, under the stress of emergency.

Then came Governor Duff. What did Governor Duff do? Governor Duff immediately proposed to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania $144,000,000 in new taxes, and the General Assembly accepted the $144,000,000 worth of new taxes. Then, in the following Session of the Legislature, Governor Duff, again against the advice, and against the counsel and against the opposition of the Minority, passed a $500,000,000 soldiers' bonus bill. He passed the school subsidy plan which turned over to the future generations, and the future General Assemblies of Pennsylvania, the bill for paying such.

What happened to the Minority during that time, Mr. President? In 1949, against the advice of every known leader in the Democratic Party, I took the floor, with the complete confidence of the Democratic Members of the Senate, and stood before this microphone and offered to Governor Duff, at that time, a program for the payment of the bills of the Commonwealth, for the payment of the bonus and for the payment of the schoolteachers' subsidies. I offered, in the name of the Minority Party, a program which would have paid the bills as they came due, and not left to the future General Assemblies the obligations left by Governor Duff.

Mr. President, I have here in my brief case a copy of the speech made on this very floor, giving the details, giving the amounts of money which would be raised and showing exactly how that money was to be spent. Yet, not one Member of the Senate Majority would vote with us. We could not get Governor Duff to go along on the program because, as was pointed out by Senator Wade, it was an ambitious administration. They wanted to create in Pennsylvania the complete confidence of the people in their ability to do things without raising the necessary funds.

Mr. President, that as much criticism as has been heaped upon the Democratic Party in the past twenty years, they have never failed to have the courage to pass the necessary revenue measures to put into effect the programs which they gave to the people of the entire United States.

Now, Mr. President, we are faced with a dilemma; yes, we are. We are faced with a proposition. It seems that we cannot get through the House, or through the Senate, the necessary legislation to create the revenues. I am not going to stand before this group today and say to you that we do not need more money. However, I am going to say to you that it can be done without the passage of a sales tax or an income tax. It can be done by proper analyzation of the program in Pennsylvania, by proper analyzation of the cost of government in Pennsylvania. I do not say that the Chesterman Committee is correct in its analysis. I do say, though, that they have given us some ground from which to work.

Mr. President, I want to say, however, to the Members of this Senate, and to the Members of the General Assembly, we cannot duck the issue, we cannot pass it off to somebody else and we cannot do it, Senator Wade, by passing a constitutional revision measure which would take three years to pass, because during the three years we may die. We have got to pass it now. We must do whatever we are going to do at this Session of the Legislature, and we do not have to wait until Christmas to do it.

We, in the Minority, are willing to cooperate, Mr. President. We are willing to give you whatever advice we can, and whatever counsel we can. We are willing to work, as we always have been willing to work, to the full benefit of the people of Pennsylvania as a whole, regardless of political affiliation. We know, probably better than you, that for some reason or another the people demand the services and do not want to pay. When you make them pay, they take it out on you on election day.

Mr. President, the time has come when we have got to have courage, the same courage we had during the Earle Administration, the same courage to pass in Pennsylvania emergency taxes to meet the need of the Commonwealth. I say to the Members of the General Assembly that what we need now is a group of taxes which will fall with the least heavy hand upon those who can pay the least, and, therefore, give to Pennsylvania an immediate program for paying its bills.

Then Mr. President, we should have a Constitutional Convention, and set up in that Constitutional Convention, in the new Constitution, the proper methods of creating the revenues to run this great Commonwealth. We are not a small, picayune political group. We are a great Commonwealth, and we are all proud to be members of it. We have got to have the courage to do those things which must be done in order that we can hold our heads up amongst the States.

Mr. President, I was in New York last week-end, and right in the New York Times, on the front page, they carried a large headlined article in which they stated that the schoolteachers of New York are asking that they pass, in the New York General Assembly, legislation allowing the State to set up so-called off track race betting, so-called bookie joints, in order to pay for education.

We have not reached that stage yet, Mr. President. However, there is one thing which you remember, that when you allow yourselves to keep getting in debt, without making the necessary provisions to pay off the debt, and to pay off the mortgage, you will eventually get to the point where you will not know what you are doing. Some people are suspicious that you have reached that stage at this moment. I do not join them. I think you know what you are doing, only you are slow about getting around to it. I would suggest a little haste. I would suggest that you get down and say to each other, "It is our ball, let us carry it over." We will not trip you too much. We will try to help you where we can. However, let us be honest about the thing and know that we have to face the situation.

Senator Wade, although you made a very fine talk, you should also have told the people of Pennsylvania what you are intending to do will take three years. If you want to do that, then join the Democrats in asking for a Constitutional Convention. If you are sincere in trying to get a solution to the problem before us, let us have the Constitutional Convention, and let us elect to that convention persons who have knowledge of the fundamental needs of this Commonwealth. Let us go into it and come out of it, so that next year when we meet again, or the year afterward when we meet again, Mr. President, we will have before us a vehicle upon which we can operate. We will have something which will give to the people of Pennsylvania the services they require, and have the taxes paid by those who can best pay.

Mr. President, I noted that the gentleman from Cumberland said that forty-two per cent of the taxes are paid by business. Now, Mr. President, ever since the beginning of time, every community of government has had to assess taxes to receive revenue from the sources available.

In Texas, they assess taxes against oil wells and cattle because they do not have any industry. Out in Nevada, they assess against cattle and gambling because they do not have any industries. We cannot assess gambling in Pennsylvania, and we cannot do very well on oil. We cannot do too much on cattle. We have to tax the sources of revenue available to us, regardless of what you call them. Out in the State of Washington, they tax apples. We have them, but we do not have them in proportion to the income of the Commonwealth, such as they have in proportion to their State. In Wisconsin, they tax cheese. You have to tax that particular item in your Commonwealth which can produce the revenue.

In this Commonwealth, Mr. President, we are an industrial State. Industry receives the benefit of the schools which we have in this Commonwealth. We train young men and young women so that they are better able to carrry on the duties of industry. We send into these mills, and into these shops and mines, well-educated young men and women who make it easier for them to operate their plants, and industry has yet to complain about paying part of the burden for the schools of the Commonwealth. Industry uses our roads; industry uses all of the facilities of this great State. So, industry must, of a necessity, pay.

Who is industry and what is industry, Mr. President? Industry is a means of employment, industry is a means of production, and we, ourselves, are industry. There are very few men within the hearing of my voice who do not own stock in some industrial or mining plant. They are industry. They are the ones who are paying the tax. They pay it through the creation of their industrial groups. When it comes down basically, you must realize that if industry is paying forty-two per cent of the taxes in Pennsylvania, by the laws of nature they are receiving at least forty-two per cent of the benefits.

Mr. President, I do not want to give you a tax program, because you would probably ignore it the same as Governor Duff ignored it. I want to say to all of you that we, as a group, in the Democratic Caucus, are not afraid to face the issues. We will face them, and when you can prove to us that this is the amount needed, the bare rock and the base rock need of the Commonwealth, you will not have any trouble on this side.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to remind the Senator that if he wishes to make a statement, he should make a request for unanimous consent.

INTERROGATION

Mr WADE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. May I, Mr. President, ask Senator Dent, after that very brilliant and widespread speech, during which there was a thread of cooperation which we all appreciate, whether he refused to sit in with a group to prepare a tax program? May I ask the gentleman if that is true?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would answer that by saying that I had the sad experience of sitting in with a group. I do not want anymore of it; I have taken my share of that.

Mr. WADE. May I further, Mr. President, ask the gentleman if he recalls that during the administration which he mentioned, the Earle Administration, a Republican Senate then helped, or went along, with a financial program to help with the fiscal problems which the State then faced?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do remember. I also remember, for the benefit of the gentleman from Cumberland, that the Democrats were in the minority, and the only way in which they could pass a bill was with Republican help. If you give us the thirty-two votes. we will pass your tax bill.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, that is a very fair offer and I hope that the stenotypist got the figure correctly.

Now, Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman and ask him,—and I am sure that he is well acquainted with the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth, plus some figures regarding his own district—is it correct, Senator Dent, that the sum of $12,137,336 was returned in cash to your Senatorial District, which comprises Westmoreland County, during the current biennium?

Mr. DENT. In cash?

Mr. WADE. In cash.

Mr. DENT. For what purpose?

Mr. WADE. For school subsidies.

Mr. DENT. We only received our proportionate share, the same as your district.

Mr. WADE. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I did not remember the last few pennies.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I ask him further if the sum of $1,705,000 was returned in cash for public assistance, to his district?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would imagine that would be right That would be our share, for our county.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the share of his Senatorial District for health examinations was $274,214.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will admit "guilty" to all of those things and say I remember them, but what is the point?

Mr. WADE. Then, may I add, Mr. President, that the sum of $306,325 was returned from liquor fees for the purpose of police protection, and the sum of $250,200 was returned for the aid of his hospitals. The sum, in cash, of $1,538,795 was returned to the townships and boroughs for road purposes, out of the highway fund, or a total returned by the State of $14,673,075. In addition to that out of soldier bonus payments, not in this biennium but since the soldiers' bonus was passed, the sum of $11,148,974 was paid into his Senatorial District, of which we have repayments of principal in interest in the sum of $1,875,000 due in the next biennium.

In view of those figures, Mr. President, and I am trying to establish to my colleague, Senator Dent, and to others, that a great deal of this money is returned in cash to the districts. If we expect that to continue to be returned, regardless of what is done in Washington, or what was done in previous administrations in Pennsylvania, or what is done in Texas or anywhere else, it is the duty of every single Member of this Legislature, of both the House and the Senate, to join hands and work out a fiscal program.

Mr. President, I suggest to Senator Dent, as well as some of my colleagues on this side, because of his knowledge of fiscal affairs, and because of his leadership and because of his position with his delegation, that I think it is high time, if we are to avoid what happened two years ago, that we have cooperation, as good citizens and good Pennsylvanians, to work out a fiscal program.

May I, Mr. President, in conclusion, say that again I appreciate very much the fact that, in the statement of Senator Dent, he said that if we have thirty-two votes on this side, they will come forward with the other necessary votes.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is a rather long question, but I will say "yes." I am not sure of the figures, but I think that in the light of the figures, you should read the figures from the other counties, too. I would not want anybody to get the idea that the Republican State Administration is subsidizing Westmoreland County. I think we are only receiving that share of State moneys which is distributed to the various county governments, and various activities of the counties, under the law of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I think that when Senator Wade read those figures, he should also have read to the Members of the Senate the amount paid in under the various taxes in the Commonwealth by the county of Westmoreland. I particularly liked that one item of $11,000,000 being paid to the soldiers in Westmoreland County by way of a bonus. It shows that we had one awful lot of soldiers in Westmoreland County.

REQUEST FOR PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement at this time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, rather than put all of this under the heading of "Bills in Place," I wish it would be possible for us to present our bills at this time, and then when we get to the heading of "Petitions and Remonstrances," that, perhaps would be a good place for this type of discussion. I do not like to mix up our record with this type of discussion now. It certainly has no place under the present Order of Business.

The PRESIDENT. Well, the Chair feels compelled to rule the Majority Floor Leader's objection is well taken. If he wishes, the Senator from Allegheny, under the rules, could only make a brief statement. with unanimous consent, under the Order of Business of Bills in Place.

The Majority Floor Leader, I take it, is injecting or offering an objection. Therefore, the Chair is compelled to rule, under those facts, that the Senator from Allegheny is out of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I will be glad to go along with the gentleman when he wants to make a statement, when it comes to the proper Order of Business.

Mr. President, I have some statements which I would like to make, too, in connection with this discussion, but I am going to forego them until we get to the proper place in the Order of Business.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 471, entitled:

An Act relating to counties of the second class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to make two observations. The first is that I have been here nineteen years in Harrisburg, and I have heard a lot of kickoff speeches for Governor. I must admit that the Senator from Cumberland has made a very convincing speech, that the Republican Party should select him as their candidate for Governor.

Mr. President, I also noted that even the press has already written on some of these cards, "Wade for Governor." He has the sign painters busy on his publicity.

Mr. President, I have noticed, too, this morning, and I was very glad, that the passing of the bill to abolish the Department of Commerce has accomplished at least one thing. It has, at least, brought to Harrisburg the Secretary of Commerce, who has been a Secretary in absentia since his appointment.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I regret that I missed the speech made by my colleague from Cumberland County. I was out of the Chamber; I came in late. I was very much interested in what he had to say,—the part that I heard, at least.

I agree with him Mr. President, that we should think seriously of giving a raise to the State employees, and rightfully so. I agree that if we vote for appropriations, we have an obligation to vote for taxation. However, he knows full well that his party is in power, both in the House and in this Chamber, and they can pass any bill, any tax program they see fit, without the aid of any Democrats.

Mr. President, we do, however, have a responsibility. I, for one, will stay until Christmas before I will vote for a sales tax or an income tax, but I will vote for another tax program, realizing that we must raise more money. Just how much, I do not know. I would like my Republican colleagues to know that I will go on record now, rather than going into a huddle or a secret meeting, to inform them how I feel about a tax program.

Mr. President, I walk into an A & P Store, and I buy a pack of cigarettes for twenty-one cents, in my town. I walk across the street to get a pack of cigarettes in a vending machine, and its costs me a quarter. Who makes the four cents? If another penny is put on cigarettes, they will still be a quarter. I have smoked cigars all my life, and for some unknown reason we have never had the courage to place a tax on cigars and smoking tobaccos. Why not? Who is being protected?

Some years ago, Mr. President, I fought, and fought hard and long, opposing a tax on soft drinks, because we feared the five cent package would be broken. There is no five cent package today, Mr. President. I say if a two cent tax is placed on every bottle of pop, it will still be a dime.

Mr. President, it is easy to balance this budget with such items, and I stand ready, as one, to vote for such measures if there will be an increase for State employees, and if we maintain our position as stated on the State-aided hospitals, our boroughs and cities, our teaching profession. I shall vote for all the Earle nuisance taxes now adopted by the Republican Party, and I shall vote for some Republican nuisance taxes, as I mentioned here a few moments ago.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the trouble is, as was pointed out in one of the Pittsburgh papers yesterday, many of us voted for this package of appropriations in the past Sessions of the Legislature, which would rightly or wrongly increase the cost of education in the State of Pennsylvania, and now we seem to be too chicken to vote for the appropriate tax bills which would pay the bill for those appropriations.

Mr President, as we go through the State of Pennsylvania, we notice that Pennsylvania is building these large school buildings in the various communities jointures are being affected, and consolidations. Due to that fact, Mr. President, this State is having to pay its share of those school buildings, which is costing us considerable money now, and as the school buildings increase in number, it will cost us more in the future, because for the first time, through this authority setup, we are having to pay for this capital expenditure of school buildings. In addition to that, we have to pay for the increased teachers' salaries, the increments which have been mandated by this Legislature.

Also, in addition to that, Mr President, we have to pay a large cost of the transportation which is necessary in transporting those children from thier homes to these school buildings. It used to be, in the old days, Mr. President, when we had the one room school house, that little "Johnny" and "Sally" walked from their home to the school building, Today that is all changed, an now we have these modern buses to pick them up and take them to the school building. We also provide a school lunch program for them during the noon hour, and then when they get through, at the end of the day, we have the same buses come back, and pick them up and haul them back home. That, Mr. President, has cost this Commonwealth a great amount of money.

Mr. President, when I first came here in 1943, the budget for education was not one-half what it is now. I believe at that time our entire budget was not as much as what it is now for just the education item alone. If you take Education, Public Assistance and Health and Welfare, it makes up over eighty per cent of our budget. When you add on the cost of repaying the soldiers' bonus, and all those other items, we get about ninety per cent. There is just not much place to cut.

Mr. President, they talk about the Chesterman Committee recommendations. If we enacted them all, they would not begin to make up what we need in this biennium. There is no question that we can enact them all. I want to go into that later when I talk about Mr. Dilworth's crack about what we have done about the Chesterman Committee reports. Right now I want to say, Mr. President, that I believe it behooves all of us, both Republicans and Democrats alike, to find out what we can about the necessities for the budget, and then try to raise the money necessary in the way of taxation.

As was pointed out, Mr. President, when the Democrats came in here, when they found, as they said, the State in a muddle, and left it in a muldle, the Republicans helped them in their tax program. I believe at the time we had a sales tax, which was on the books for a temporary period, and the Republicans helped them out on that Then we came into good times and more money came in, and the Republicans helped to lop off, or the Republicans and the Democrats both lopped off, some of the taxes which were on the books, It is not necessarily so that once you put a tax on the books, it is going to be there forever. During my time in the Legislature, we have eliminated several of the taxes which were enacted by former Sessions of the Legislature.

Mr. President, I want to also mention in briefly the other article which I saw in the Pittsburgh press yesterday, which I thought was very good. It brought out the fact that unless you drink, or smoke or sell a little piece of real esate, you do not pay very much in taxes to the State of Pennsylvania. When I get back home a lot of people say, "Oh, we are paying a lot of taxes." However, when you ask them what taxes they pay to the State of Pennsylvania, they cannot tell you very much about it. They just say, "Well, we know we pay a lot of taxes." When you pin them down, they bring out that they pay their income tax, or that they went to the city treasurer and paid tax to the city, or to the treasurer to pay taxes for the schools. As you go throughout the length and breadth of the United States, you will find many States which have had to resort to a broad base tax in order to finance their increased costs.

Mr. President, a very forthright statement was made the other day by a fellow who does not happen to belong to the same political party as mine, but he said that the spiral of inflation has contributed very largely to the high costs, and the increasing costs, of government. Who made that statement? None other than my friend, Mayor Lawrence, of Pittsburgh, at a meeting which I attended at the Cathedral of Learning last Thursday night.

Mr. President, you will find that it is not only Republican dominated Legislatures which need more money. You will find in the cities, in the city of Pittsburgh, in the City of Philadelphia, and these various places which do not happen to be controlled by Republicans, they have had to go out and increase their taxes, because their costs have increased immeasurably. We are in about the same fix. In order to get more funds, we are now considering a broad base tax. I think that sooner or later, we, like the other States in the Union, will have to pass some type of broad base tax so that all the people may have an opportunity to contribute toward the cost of education, public health and welfare, assistance and the other costs.

I want to mention briefly, Mr. President, about Mr. Dilworth, who hit town the other night and stated that neither political party has made an honest effort to carry out the provisions of the Chesterman Report. Mr. Presiden, if any particular report of any commission has ever been considered seriously and at length, I believe that the Chesterman Report has been so considered by this Legislature. It seems we have done nothing but talk about Mr. Chesterman and his report since we hit here last January. Of course, we cannot pass all these measures blindly. The other day, in the Senate, there was not one vote for a couple of those bills which were based on Mr. Chesterman's Report.

I find, Mr. President, on my desk today a little memo from the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, in which they oppose Senate Bill No. 378 and Senate Bill No. 382, appearing on pages 11 and 12 of our Calendar, respectively. When I looked at those bills, lo and behold, they were "Dent and Mahany bill, by request," or the Chesterman Report. You cannot breath hot and cold. I do not suppose that Mr. Dilworth would oppose the recommendations of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, but here they oppose these bills which Mr. Dilworth feels we should be passing.

The other bill Mr. Dilworth refers to, Mr. President, is the one which would centralize the State institutions by making these boards advisory boards in the State institutions. He says that we acted on that with disfavor. I believe that is the bill which is on our third reading calendar today, and we are going to act on it.

Mr. President, I do not know why Mr. Dilworth, or anybody else, says that we have not given this report and its recommendations every consideration. I feel that we have. The Legislative Reference Bureau, and the Department of Justice, have done a big job in preparing these bills. Some of them run fifty and sixty pages long. I do not see, myself, how in the world the Legislative Reference Bureau did the work which they did in connection with these bills. They did a monumental work, and I think that this Session of the Legislature would be remiss if it did not pass some type of a resolution, specifically thanking them for the work which they have done on this.

Then, Mr. President, Mr. Dilworth hits public apathy, and says that the people are very little interested in the affairs of their State. I hope that the people's memory does not go back to the time when Mr. Dilworth had his turn at bat up here in Harrisburg, because I understand from the Attorney General, who was in power at that time, that Mr. Dilworth did not make any home runs; that he cost the State of Pennsylvania a good many thousands of dollars by his negligence in the way he conducted the office he was in at that time. If he wants the memories to go back, let us hope that they do not go back that far.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I sat here and listened to all this debate today, and it seems unusual that the Majority Leader should take such a peculiar interest in the statements made bya nonmember of the Senate. It would appear, to my way of thinking, that in all probability the Majority Leader has the thought in mind, that, perhaps, Mr. Dilworth might be the candidate for Governor.

Mr. President, I say that it is surprising to me that the Majority Party will admit, here in public, that they need additional revenue to balance the budget, because, if my memory serves me correctly, in the last gubernatorial campaign Republican spokesmen went throughout the width of this State and told the people they could balance the budget without any additional revenue. Here we are, and we find it just the reverse.

Mr. President, I think that if you look at the record, during the ten years I have been a Member of the Senate, I have voted for all sensible tax measures, because I believe if we vote for appropriations we must vote for taxes. However, I do say this to you here today. I cannot see the sense of enacting a broad base tax, either an income tax or a sales tax. As our Minority Floor Leader stated to you here today, we are opposed to it because this budget can be balanced without a broad base tax.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to make a few comments on Senator Wade's appeal for assistance to get the Republican Majority out of the dilemma in which it finds itself.

Mr. President, as Senator Dent pointed out, at the end of the Earle Administration, the State Government was turned over to the Republican Party in excellent financial condition. The people of Pennsylvania, based on statements which were made by former Governor James, believed him and elected him Governor. He was here for four years. The promises he made during the campaign were broken. Another campaign came along, and we got more promises in Pennsylvania. This time we got these promises from former Governor Martin. When Governor Martin was about ready to leave the State Capitol, he traveled the length and breadth of this Commonwealth, telling the people that he was leaving Harrisburg with a $200,000,000 surplus. You know, and I know, that the $200,000,000 surplus never existed, and was never found. Then we had another election, and this time the Republican Party went out and made more promises to the people, and the people were fooled again and they elected Governor Duff. Governor Duff, in turn, left the State Capitol and, in the words of Governor Fine, left him here holding the bag with a lot of debts.

Mr. President, I would suggest to Senator Wade that since all three former Governors are still alive, Governor James, Governor Martin and Governor Duff, who I understand is thinking about running again for Governor at the end of Governor Fine's term, he summon them into a conference, if that is posisble, and get the three of them to sit down and get them, who put the Commonwealth in the hole, to work out the problems which now face the Republican Party.

Mr. President, I understand that former Governor Martin is Chairman of the Public Works Committee in the United States Senate. A short time ago, just as he always does when he talks—he talks against loose spending, huge budgets and all that sort of thing—he made a statement to the effect that there is only one way in which you can reduce budgets, and that is by reduced expenditures. What applies in the Federal Government, applies in the State Government.

Therefore, Mr. President, the Majority Party has at its disposal some advisers of whom they could take advantage, if they can get them together. I would suggest that they do so. Get them here, and ask them to work out their tax problems and their budget problems and, perhaps, we can end this Session in short order and go home.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, by way of correcting the Majority Floor Leader, I wish to tell him that he was in error when he said that the Democratic Party at one time, during the Earle Administration, had a sales tax. That is not a fact, and I would like the record to show that.

Mr. President, I would also like to call to the attention of Senator Mahany that at the last regular Session of the General Assembly, there were twenty Democrats here who voted for eight out of the ten taxes which were levied at the last binnium. We felt that for every appropriation bill that we voted, we voted for the tax. There was the realty transfer, the two per cent insurance premium tax, the increase in the inheritance, both direct and collateral, and the other taxes which were in that package. Never have we closed our eyes blindly, and said that we were for appropriation bills and against all tax bills. We are not that type of person; we never have been and we are not going to be at this time.

Mr. President, I would like to read one or two statements by "Mr. Republican," the Honorable Robert Taft. He has been "riding in all directions" lately. He wrote a magazine article, and he made a speech to the alumni at Yale and he views with alarm that the men in the news gallery are being somewhat critical. I was around Washington for twenty years, and I want Mr. Taft to know that our hides got pretty tough. We did not view with alarm; we were accustomed to that.

Again, Mr. President, I saw a speech where Senator Taft was rather critical of President Eisenhower because he placed so many businessmen in his Cabinet. He says, "Republicans have returned to power 'in utter darkness,' and he sideswipes Ike's cabinet and the rest of the industrial big shots that have taken up the Eisenhower burden in Washington, as men who have been eminently successful in business, 'but don't have a single day's experience running a federal government—the biggest institution the world has ever seen'."

Mr. President, I say it is about time that the Majority Party resolves itself into one party instead of so many splinters, and gives to the people of Pennsylvania a tax program, one of sense, one of direction and one which will meet their bills, and not a program with a pork barrel budget.

Mr. President, someone in their speech this afternoon—I think it was Senator Wade—said that they were cutting the drones and pruning the State payroll. I hate to go back to a subject that was mentioned twice before, but how can they be pruning the drones from the State payroll, when one week after the Supreme Court's decision, in regard to the Philadelphia Charter, they were able to create big, fat jobs for seven ward leaders who were forced to resign or get out of politics? That is not pruning the budget. That is not economy. That is the thing which has put the rather slanty eye at the Republican Administration, and the Republican General Assembly, who are in control here in Harrisburg as of A.D. 1953.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I know that Senator Yosko will be very happy if we keep the record straight. I just want to point out to the gentleman that it is so seldom we get a Governor from Allegheny County, that we do not like to have misrepresentations in the record.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, suggested that at the conclusion of Governor Duff's Administration, he left with a deficit. I would like to call his attention to the budget, which shows that at the conclusion of Governor Duff's Administration, there was a very sizable surplus which was carried over into the next biennium.

I know that Senator Yosko will be happy to get those facts.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am sure if Senator Walker checks with the stenographer, he will find that I said that Governor Duff, in the words of Governor Fine—Governor Fine said that he was left here with a lot of debts and obligations to be met.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I did not want him to be confused by any statement which he might have heard.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, this identical bill was presented to this Legislature in 1951, and was defeated. It attempts to exempt residents in the neighboring counties of Philadelphia, who work in Philadelphia and make their living in Philadelphia, and under the provisions of this bill they would be exempt from paying the Philadelphia income tax. In dollars and cents, the passage of this bill would mean a loss of $11,000,000 in revenue to the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, besides being embarrassing to the administration in Philadelphia, particularly because a tax recently imposed is now in litigation in our Supreme Court, this bill appears to be unfair because, on Page 4, it limits the applicability of this bill to Philadelphia County only. We know that in the State of Pennsylvania there are at least sixty to seventy communities who have a similar tax, wherein they compel nonresidents to pay their income tax. Yet, we are faced in this Legislature with a special piece of legislation, a piece of legislation which would punish one county in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, there is justice in this tax. This is a tax that nonresidents should pay along with residents, for this reason. We all know that they enjoy police protection; they enjoy all the city facilities; they make their living and take money out of the city of Philadelphia; and , to my mind, it is a just tax.

I have said this before, Mr. President, and I say it again to my friends in the neighboring counties. There are two ways of earning a living. One, if you are fortunate, to invest and make your living at investments, and the other is by manual labor. Let us take the one instance. A man residing in Delaware County may invest his money in an office building in the city of Philadelphia, and make his living through that venture. No one will get up and say that because he lives in Delaware County, he should not pay real estate taxes in the city of Philadelphia. No one would dare raise such a question. Yet, when it comes to the other way of earning a living, that is by work, we hear the complaint that they should not be taxed.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, remember that you cannot punish one county and permit sixty to seventy other communities to do the very same thing that you are trying to do with this bill. I ask the Members of this Senate, who realize what it is to upset a budget, and you are plenty concerned about our budget in the State of Pennsylvania, to be fair, and not by a vote upset the budget in the city of Philadelphia. I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I concur heartily in my colleague's statement, Mr. Silvert, of Philadelphia County. I would like to point out to the Members of this body that if this $11,000,000 is taken away from the city of Philadelphia, we, as one of the large counties in the State, may have to come here and ask you to help solve part of our tax problem, which will put us back to where we were earlier today in discussing the larger tax problem for the whole State.

Mr. President, the people who live in and around the surrounding counties of Philadelphia enjoy all the services that the city offers to its residents. They are people who live in a large suburban area, enjoying some of the country life as well as deriving all of the benefits of the city. The close proximity of their homes to the city makes them, in a sense, citizens of the city, and as such they should pay, and help pay, for the services they are receiving from this large community.

Also, Mr. President, I believe, it should be pointed out that Philadelphia is the nerve center of the Delaware Valley. This area is growing larger and larger, and the community is spreading away from the city of Philadelphia, to the point where most of our citizens are living on the outskirts of the city and earning their livelihood in the city. Those who reap the benefits should bear some of the burden, and the burden is part of this tax program.

Mr. President, I ask the Members of this body to join with myself and my colleague, Senator Silvert, in voting against this bill, and helping the people of Philadelphia to continue on with the program which they have set up under this tax program and in keeping the city operating efficiently and giving good government.

Mr. President, I would just like to say in closing that I cannot feel this bill has been introduced, or has been motivated, along partisan lines. This tax was quite good, and had been in effect for quite some time under the former administration. I would feel badly to think that anyone felt, because the administration has changed in the city, we must now wipe out a tax structure which has aided the city over these many years.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I felt as though today my Philadelphia Democratic colleagues would very probably not have the nerve to stand up and talk about this bill, after the way we discussed it in 1951. I can see that regardless of how long they have a chance to learn, they never take advantage of it.

Mr. President, in 1932 this tax was put on to help the Philadelphians out of a bad financial situation. As usual, any tax that is once applied always stays there. Certainly, today we do find Phialdelphia in a pretty bad mess. With the government they have there, I think it will be in a mess for a long while.

I would like to go back, Mr. President, in answering Senator Silvert, for whom I have very much respect, a very learned gentleman, indeed, but certainly he is not very learned in reference to this tax. He stands up and tells the Members of this Senate that it would take $11,000,000 away from the city of Philadelphia, and that this would be embarrassing to them now. I say to the gentleman, he should be embarrassed, for the simple reason that they have been stealing from the coffers of their adjoining counties now since 1932. I think it is high time that they start to find some way to relieve themselves of that embarrassment. I certainly know that he must be embarrassed.

Mr. President, in Philadelphia, I remember having to sit and look at my televison, and listen to the oratory. If I remember correctly, this great team, in the eyes of maybe some Democrats, but certainly not mine, this great team of Dilworth and Clark, when they campaigned in the city of Philadelphia, they said that they were going to cut taxes and that they were going to sweep the drones from the payrolls of Philadelphia.

I say to you, Mr. President, they have cut the taxes all right. They have raised the taxes $27,000,000 in the few years that they have been in, two years to be exact. They have put 3,000 drones on the payrolls. Now, how in the world can they ever face any embarrassment in taxing their neighbors with tactics like that going on?

Mr. President, this great Democratic team from Philadelphia, headed by those two gentlemen—and may I go on record, Mr. President, as saying that I have no fear of Mr. Dilworth ever being Governor of the State of Pensylvania? I respect the Democratic Party, and we must have it. The Minority Party, as they are today in Pennsylvania, is a great party. We must have the two party system. I know of a lot of Democrats that I know the people would take in preference to Mr. Dilworth. I am afraid that he has lied, and told the people too many fairy stories and he can no longer lull anyone to sleep. In fact, that was proved the other night when Joe McCarthy, for whom I am not batting either, lulled him to sleep on the elevision program. Let us not have any fear of the name of Dilworth being a great prospect for Governor. That is impossible, absolutely impossible and unthinkable.

I, too, would like to call your attention, Mr. President, to the fact that the great Senator said that we enjoy heir police service in Philadelphia, and that we use all of their city facilities. I judge he means the lavatories, the drinking fountains and the very things that go along with human life, which people must have. That is true, we do go down their streets. It is true, we do go to their night clubs and pick up the checks; we do go to their dining rooms and pick up the checks; we do go to their theatres and pick up the check. We, of Delaware County, do come to Philadelphia.

I would like to say to the gentleman that we want to continue to come there. Mr. President, we like the "City of Brotherly Love." It is no privilege or pleasure to stand up here today and have to answer some of these things, which are asinine, in my opinion. It becomes hard for me to do it. I say that we want to continue to use the "City of Brotherly Love," but we do not want to be told about having police there. They are not just there for the people from Delaware County, or for the people from Montgomery County, or Bucks County or Chester County. They certainly must be there to catch some of those switch blade fellows that they have up there. They are not there to watch us. They would have them whether we came there or not.

I also say, Mr. President, that certainly they do not begrudge us a drink of water, and certainly they do not begrudge our paying a fee to the P. R. T. transportation line. They tell me it is defunct now; I do not know. They certainly should welcome our nickles to help along the situation.

Mr. President, I am just sick and tired, personally, of hearing these childish remarks made. They, too, say that we come to Philadelphia, and I agree with them. That is all agreed upon. I would like to say, Mr. President, there are 40,000 Philadelphians working in the county of Delaware, 40,000 of them. Mr. President, I would also like to say that we do not count our police, we do not worry about that. They drink our water and use our lavatories. They do all these things, and we want them to continue to do them. We want them to come down any time they can, when they are through working, and buy a little merchandise down in our Chester district or up in our Upper Darby district. We would love that. We want them to continue to do that.

Mr. President, do not let anyone try to convince anyone that they should vote against this bill because our people work in Philadelphia. In Delaware County, we only have such great manufacturing places, for instance, as Westinghouse, General Steel, Baldwin Locomotive Works, Scott Paper Company, Penn Steel Casting, Atlantic Steel Casting, Sun Ship, Sun Oil, Sinclair Refining and South Chester Tube. What is left in Philadelphia for any one to work? What places are left there? I do not know of too many places. Yes, they have office buildings there, and, God knows, the people do not get them for nothing. They pay the rent and they pay the taxes, too, if they hapen to own them. As far as a few people working there, that is just simply crazy, and I think we should stop considering it. I know that a lot of Democrats over there will not consider a tax like this.

I also would like to say this, Mr. President, that certainly it is a tax without a principle. It is not an emergency tax, it is not a fair tax. It is a tax without representation, and you can certainly realize that I do not want to go into that. I know that all of the gentlemen here know why we fought the British, they know why the Boston Tea Party was staged. I do not want to talk about that.

Certainly, Mr. President, it is a sickening situation. Session after Session we have to sit here and listen to this. They want to be so goodhearted, they want everybody to be so good to them. I ask you this. If the Philadelphia wage tax is so fair, where were the Philadelphia Democratic votes for the income tax in 1951? Where were their votes then? Why did they not feel sorry for the State of Pennsylvania, who had to pay the teachers, and take care of the hospitals and the necessary funds that we had to have? They are so goodhearted. It is hardhearted, in other words, the position that they have taken here, that they do not want to pay this tax. I say to you, it is just a lot of tomfoolery. It is simply a question which is really not debatable.

Mr. President, this thing of hollering "mercy," with a Democratic administration up there wasting millions of dollars, and doing nothing to cut the expenses in Philadelphia, and expecting their neighbors to pay it, I ask you gentlemen here to think about that. You have an administration up there now which has promised to do all those things. Economy, have they put in any economy? If so, I would like Senator Silvert, and the other gentleman, Senator Weiner, to tell me where the economies are, and to stand up and tell me whether they do not really feel ashamed of defending a tax like this.

Mr. President, I say to the gentlemen of the Senate, in all humility, I ask you to consider this, both on the Democratic side and on the Republican side. I am not making an attack upon the Democratic Party. I am making an attack upon a bunch of phonies in Philadelphia, that is what I am doing, and I do not take back anything which I have said.

Mr. President, I am fighting for this bill today because I campaigned and told my people that I would, and I have ever since I have been here. Certainly the Democratic administration cannot say that they have done anything to create economy in Philadelphia, on which they were elected to office.

I say that it is high time this body here recognizes and enforces a little economy, because, Mr. President, when the moneybag is gone in my business, the creditors generally move in. They want to know why I am not paying, so I try to run my business on the money that I have. It is time for them to create some economy, and keep their word to the people of Philadelphia and take this disgraceful tax away.

Mr. President, I would like to call something else to the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate. In 1951, I called to the attention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor that they had omitted, on this little slip that they put on your desks, telling you which bills they favor and which bills they oppose, the Philadelphia Wage Tax Bill. With all humility, they apologized. They said that they were sorry; they said it was an oversight.

Mr. President, I will not accept their apology today; it is not an oversight today. This wage tax bill has been on the Senate Calendar now for about ten days, in my opinion, maybe less, but certainly they have no excuse or no reason at all for the omission today, these great defenders of labor who want everything that belongs to them, and more than what we sometimes think they can get. I want to call to your attention, Mr. President, that they, too, should have had this bill on here, as favoring it at this time. I want no apology now because it is no mistake.

Mr. President, this bill, Senate Bill No. 43, takes one and one-quarter cents out of every dollar that every working man, in these counties adjoining Philadelphia, earns. Certainly they are for the working man, and they now still say that they are satisfied for some people to dig into the pockets of the working man. However, that same labor group today is over in the House of Representatives, opposing the sales tax in the State of Pennsylvania. Not one vote out of ninety some Members can we get.

I say, Mr. President, if you are going to play fair, if you are not a phony, then call your shots as you see them. Certainly do not be one-sided with your shots. They have missed the boat again, as they always miss the boat when they want to.

In conclusion, Mr. President, I ask all of my colleagues on both sides to vote for this bill. When they vote for this bill, they will save the embarrassment in the future of our Senators from Philadelphia and the Members of the House, I hope.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill and I would like to state a few reasons why.

Mr. President, the good Senator from Delaware County stated that he has campaigned on this platform time and time again, and if we pass this bill, what is going to happen to his campaign platform. He will not have anything on which to go back to his people in Delaware County in order to get re-elected. I want to see him back in this Senate from here on in. I think that is one very good reason why we should not pass this bill.

In the second place, Mr. President, he said these people from Delaware County go to Philadelphia, and they go to our night clubs and to our theaters. They pay our amusement tax. Why do they not complain about that? There is no difference. They spend their nights going to our places of amusement, and do not object to paying our amusement tax. Why do they object to coming in, and earning their livelihood, and paying some small token on their livelihood which they earn in Philadelphia County?

Now, Mr. President, Philadelphia's tax structure is such that the main burden of taxation to support our Philadelphia government comes from real estate. This wage tax is a very small percentage of the total tax paid by the citizens of Philadelphia to support their government and to pay for the police protection, fire protection and all those things that Senator Watkins said do not amount to anything. We are not asking them to pay even a proportionate share of those expenses. We are paying more than seventy-five per cent of those by our real estate taxes. only about twenty-five per cent comes from the wage tax, and most of that comes from Philadelphians.

Mr. President, it seems to me that when these people from outside Philadelphia come in there and spend their working day, as compared to their pleasure day which they spend mostly outside of Philadelphia, and they sleep outside, they have their working residence in Philadelphia, it is only fair that they should pay some small pittance to help support the government of Philadelphia which protects them and gives them so many advantages.

Mr. President, in reply to one other thing which bothers be about this argument, every time we have it we hear the cry of "taxation without representation, is tyranny," and the Boston Tea Party, and everything connected therewith. Now, if the good Senator from Delaware will remember, the reason the Colonists complained was that they were having taxes imposed upon them from England, and they had no vote for the Representatives in Parliament, which imposed those taxes. In other words, if the city of Philadelphia would go out to Delaware County and impose a real estate tax on Delaware County real estate, on Delaware County sales or something like that, you might have taxation without representation and that would be tyranny.

We have no such thing here, Mr. President. They voluntarily come over to Philadelphia to earn their livelihood, and by so doing, they make themselves amenable to our laws. It is just like if Senator Watkins owned a piece of real estate in some other county or in some other State, he certainly would not complain that the real estate tax of that other State or county on him was taxation without representation. He would be very happy, and you would not hear a word out of him about that real estate tax. So, that "taxation without representation" argument is not quite accurate, and it is just a slogan that seems to fool some people.

Mr. President, by and large, this tax is a fair tax, and the nonresidents should be only too glad to pay that small amount to Philadelphia County, for all the services they get when they come into Philadelphia County, where they spend their working day. I would ask the Members of the Senate to vote this bill down.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, first I want to thank Senator Kephart for being with us on this bill. It is my recollection that it is the first time we have had occasion to argue together on the same question.

Mr. President, Senator Watkins, for whom I also have a great deal of regard, made this statement. He said that the people and the government of Philadelphia have been stealing—that is the word he used—from the coffers of the people of Delaware County since the year of 1932. Of course, Senator Watkins, being a good Republican as he is, must realize, and I am not going to ask him to be interrogated because he well knows that from 1932 until 1951, his own Republican Party was in charge and in control of the city of Philadelphia. Some of them may resent being called theives and being accused of stealing from the people in Delaware County.

Mr. President, Senator Watkins also made a statement that economies have been promised by the administration in Philadelphia, and that he has not seen any. I might tell Senator Watkins that there are a number of departments in Philadelphia where he can go in and they will prove to him that there has been a reduction of at least ten per cent in personnel. The over-all employment picture may not have been reduced, that is true, but that is for one reason only. There is one department that the Republican Administration neglected in the city of Philadelphia, whether it was because it was nonpolitical or not, it was greatly under staffed, and that was the Health Department. The gain in the number of employees has been in a department that has been sadly neglected, to the detriment of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, there is one other point. Senator Watkins apparently does not like Mr. Dilworth as a candidate for Governor. Again, I am not going to interrogate him, but I would like him to tell me privately, whom does Senator Watkins want the Democrats to run for Governor?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to answer Senator Watkins. Not to get away from the bill at hand, but one of the offices with which I am familiar, the District Attorney's office, cut the personnel from 106 to about eighty or eighty-two. I think that is somewhat of a saving, because most of the people employed there received a salary of about $4,000 and up.

I was also very happy, Mr. President, to hear that Senator Watkins has no fear of Mr. Dilworth being the Democratic candidate for Governor, because I know I will have no trouble then in voting for him and asking his constituents to do likewise.

Mr. President, Senator Watkins was worried about this matter being one of embarrassment. It is not one of embarrassment, but one of curtailment of services which people who live in Philadelphia, as well as those outside of the city, enjoy. He said that they were very happy, when they came into the city, to pick up the check and pay this tax. He did not tell you where they received the money with which to pick up that check. Now, if they received their money in the city of Philadelphia, and they come in and enjoy all the things which the city offers, I think they should be willing to bear some of that cost.

Mr. President, a great deal of time has been spent here on this large tax, and I think it should be pointed out to the gentlemen of this body that the tax is only one and one-half per cent, which is a small sum on a total wage or a total salary. I am happy to feel that the Sentor does not feel this is a personal matter, but one for the good of all.

Mr. President, not to delay action on this bill or this point any longer, I feel that the only thing which can be done is to vote this bill down, because it is a piece of class legislation, aimed at the city of Philadelphia. If we want to do the proper thing, and the correct thing, as statesmen, I think we should take all the cities to task which have this type of tax.

Mr. McCUSKER. Mr. President, I hate to prolong this discussion but, nevertheless, I feel I should go on record as saying I oppose this bill.

Mr. President, I do, however, want to point out to Senator Weiner that the reduction in the District Attorney's office, even though they are there, he has taken the police officers from the Department of Police and he has them in the District Attorney's office. That is no real reduction; it is just taking them from one payroll and putting them on—that is, they are not taxed against one payroll, but he uses the personnel from one payroll in the District Attorney's office.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr President, I wanted to remain silent, but I think I am forced to rise, too.

Mr. President, if you will look at the Journal of a few years ago, I said that I would vote against this bill reluctantly, because I believed that the Senator from Delaware—and let me congratulate you, your voice was in good tune today—had some merit to his discussion. My good colleague, who is a southern gentleman first and then a Senator,—you know, he was born below the Mason-Dixon Line, I believe—said that under this administration they have not done anything.

Mr. President, you know Philadelphia's economic Structure has been like a hunchback. It has had a hunch on its back for so many years, that you just cannot dispense with it in a couple of years. You must give Mayor Clark a little time to clean out some of those drones and reduce the expenditures. You must give them a chance.

Mr. President, today I was looking at the racing chart and I saw the notation, "Needs a Race." There was a horse that I really liked and the chart said, "Needs a Race," and, I will be darned, it came in. It did not need the race. You know, Mr. President, sometimes a horse must go around several times, and must be in three or four races before it really can come in. So, give Mayor Clark and the administration a chance to run around the track a little.

Mr. WATKNS. Mr. President, I am sorry my friend, Senator DiSilvestro, rose because he was the man I had in mind who would make a better Democratic candidate for Governor than Mr Dilworth.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would just like to say a word to the distinguished Senator from Delaware, for whom I have always had a very warm spot. I want to say to him that I think he was just a little below the belt today in some of his remarks with regard to the people in Philadelphia. I do not think it was in good taste, shall I say, perhaps, for him to call the leadership in the city of Philadelphia today, which happens to be Democratic at this time, a bunch of thieves and that they were corrupt.

I would not want to embarras anyone, Mr. President, and I do not want to go into the political organizations which have existed, and do exist, in Delaware County today. I think it would be in good taste, on his part, and I think it would help the good will between all of us here in the Senate, and in the two parties within the State, if he would make some sort of an apology to those gentleman in Philadelphia who are now administering the government of that great city.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, instead of making an apology, I would like to double what I said, Any time any man campaigns for a political office, whether he be Democrat or whether he be Republican, and he does not fullfill his agreements to the people on which he campaigned, then he is a phony, or she is a phony, and that is exactly what happened in Philadelphia. They promised economies, and they raised taxes $27,000,000; they promised to fire the drones, and they hired them. Therefore, I am very sorry but I have no apologies to make.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the longer I serve in this Senate, the more convinced I am that it all depends on whose ox it being gored. You know I would not say to the Members of the Senate that the Republican administration in Harrisburg, which everyone knows is inept and inefficient, I would not say that because I think it is not in good taste.

I want to advise the distinguished Senator from Delaware County, Mr. President, that if he would have kept on talking, he would have lost my Democratic vote for this bill. As a matter of fact, in 1951, Mr. President, I think it was my vote that was the deciding, vote which brought that bill out of committee. I took the floor and supported that legislation, because I feel as he does in regard to taxation, but I do not believe in wage taxes on nonresidents.

I do say this to the distinguished gentleman, Mr. President, that when he submits his arguments to the membership of the Senate, he should use good taste and aldress his remarks to the bill and not on personalities and administrators. We do not do those things on our side.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am very sorry to hear the tone that this discussion has taken. I fully intend to vote for the bill, which is something unheard of probably, in the Senate, but it is a matter of principle. I also Voted against 481, which allowed some seventy-six odd communities in Pennsylvania to place this same type of tax on their residents. I do not want to refresh the memory of the Senate, but Senator Watkins voted for that bill. Senator, you may not know it, but you allowed my town to put a tax on the nonresidents of the city of Jeannette, and you voted for that. I thought maybe you should know that.

Mr. President, although I am sticking to a principle and am going to vote for this bill, because it does exactly what 481 does, my vote would do the same voting "aye" today as voting "no" then.

I am sorry, too, Mr. President, that Senator Watkins got into the question of personalities. I have been in a position to criticize the Republicans, because I am the leader of the Democrats, but at all times I have tried to refrain from going into personalities. If we listened to every street conversation, every man in politics is a drone, every man in politics is something that you would not want in your home, every man in politics is the sort of second or third class citizen. All we do when we join the street corner talker is help to create the impression that men who achieve public office are not fit to hold public office, or are not fit to be regular citizens of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, in so far as Mr Dilworth is concerned, I do not think that anything in this bill has anything to do with his character. I do not know, the man has never lied to me; he has never said anything to me that he has not lived up to.

I do not know where you get your information, but from what I read in the papers, there are a great many persons who have campaigned on promises which they have not kept. The trouble we are in today is because you cannot keep your promises as a political party. You talk about why the Democrats should not vote against this bill, because they would not vote for an income tax in 1951. If memory serves me right, Senator Watkins, you were one of the ten counted against the bill in 1951 I would gladly vote against this bill today if I could salve my conscience, but I cannot do it. So long as I am a Member of this Senate, I will never vote for a flat tax on anyone. I will not vote for the taxation of any community against another one, regardless of what face or disguises it takes.

Mr. President, the problem here is between the members of the city delegation of Philadelphia, and I have allowed them to carry the burden of the argument both ways, for and against. The question they have now is the same as you are up against in Pennsylvania. If you take this tax from them, then you have to give them a substitute tax in its place.

Mr. President, if there is any danger of this bill passing, I want to issue a protest vote at this moment against taxation of another community's citizens, but if the vote comes to the point where one vote is needed, I will chanage my vote. I will do that and salve my conscience, because I would not deprive the citizens of Philadelphia of the needs of their community at this time, without giving them another piece of legislation to take its place. I would like to vote my conscience, but the time comes when necessity takes the place of logic. Logic is on your side, Senator Watkins; necessity is on the side of the other Senators. I think we should respect that, without getting into the position of calling each other names.

Mr. President, I do not know whether Mr. Dilworth will be a canidate for Governor or not. If he is the candiate for the Governor of the Democratic Party, I want you all to know that I will campaign for him. I will campaign for him as I will for any other Democrat, because I think the time has come for the Democrats to take this State and give it some good government, give it the kind of government it needs. In your own words, so well spoken so many times, "It is time for a change." It is time for a drastic change.

Mr. McGINNIS. I am sure that nearly everybody on this floor, Mr. President, has a theory that taxes should be levied where there is ability to pay. I have traveled through all of the counties surrounding Philadelphia, and I admire those communities. It seems to me that they are all estates, marvelous dwellings, with acres around their homes. They take their chauffers, and drive into Philadelphia and make their living to keep those estates up. I would say that if there is a bunch of taxpayers who have the ability to pay, it is in those counties surrounding Philadelphia, those who live there and own those estates. They do have some factories there, but very few compared to Allegheny County. They drive in Philadelphia and make their living and earn money, and I think they should be taxed.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?
(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. Speaker, is it the intention of the majority party to report legislation that would place state employes under Social Security?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, recently the Minority Leader asked that particular question as to social security for a number of state workers presently not covered by the act. I have contacted the Executive Director of the Bureau of Social Security for Public Employes, and his communication to me in part reads as follows:

> "The Federal Social Security Law excludes from coverage those positions which are covered by a retirement system established by the state or its political subdivisions. Section 218 (d) of that law provides:
> No agreement with any state may be made applicable (either in the original agreement or by any modification thereof) to any service performed by employes as members of any coverage group in positions covered by a retirement system on the date such agreement is made applicable to such coverage group:
> "Since the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a retirement system, the positions within that system are barred from coverage under the Federal program by provisions of Section 218 (d)—which I have just read.

Mr. Jamieson goes on to say:

> . . . Unless and until Congress amends the law to permit dual or integrated coverage, state employes, whose jobs are covered by the state system, cannot qualify for the benefits of the Federal program. There are, however, a number of bills pending in Congress to amend the section and the probabilities are that one of them will be enacted at this session of Congress.

I might say, Mr. Speaker, that I asked Mr. Jamieson the question under what circumstances could a state employе not eligible under the state retirement system come under the federal law. He said he knew of no plan. The reason is that if this particular person were to resign from state employment, a new person would be appointed to his job and this particular person would be eligible for coverage by the state retirement system. The federal government by regulation has said that by reason of the fact that the job was one that could be covered by the state system, under no circumstances could it be covered under the federal system. He expects that it is quite likely that Congress will remedy that situation at this session of the National Congress.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would it be practical to enact legislation contingent upon the enactment of the proper federal legislation?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, I would say that that would not be at all out of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest, first, that the Majority Leader give consideration to such a plan. Second, is it the intention of the majority leadership to report legislation enabling cities to enact rent control legislation, an enabling act contingent upon the decision of the cities themselves?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have no opinion on that at the present time. There has been some discussion of it, but no decision has been made. I hope to give you a decision on that soon.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would call the Majority Leader's attention to the fact that time is running against us and that a decision upon this type of legislation is essential immediately. If we are to enact such legislation, it certainly should be started on its way before May 1st. We are therefore suggesting that an enabling act be reported which will save us the trouble of getting a record vote by means of an attempt to discharge the committee.

How soon does the Majority Leader think such a bill will be reported to the floor?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I cannot say right now but I will give you the answer soon, possibly before we adjourn this week.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the Majority Leader inform the House as to when we will be prepared to relinquish custody of the FEPC bill and submit it for the consideration of the House?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say that at the last session the Minority Leader spoke about the then Majority Leader's mausoleum down in the office. Well, the FEPC bill is not in my mausoleum. It has been introduced.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the minority and on behalf of the majority, I congratulate the Majority Leader upon his righteous and, I have no doubt, courageous decision.

I can assure him that when the bill comes up for final passage, if there are 90 Members of the minority on the floor, there will be 90 Members voting for it; if there are 95 Members on this side of the House when the bill comes up for final passage it will get 95 votes; and if there are 98 present on this side of the House when the bill comes up for final passage, it will get 98 votes. So I charge the Majority Leader with the task of coming to the front with at least 20 votes, in which event the bill will be triumphantly passed in the House and committed to the tender mercies of the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The minority group in this House has from the first been in disagreement with the formula that has governed action, or rather that has produced in action up to this time.

We have been considering and reconsidering fiscal legislation. We have been in doubt as to whether or not we are going to raise $140 million by means of a particular tax, or whether we are going to raise $280 million. While we have been talking about all of these vast sums we have had no appropriation objective. There has been no clear statement concerning the maximum needs of the Commonwealth which this House is prepared, as a matter of common sense and of honor, to finance. I suggest that what we need is a clear expression of our financial objective.

It is the function of the Appropriations Committee to screen the requests of the various departments, to reduce them to a minimum. It is the function of the Appropriations Committee to consider the supplemental appropriations, and it is the function of the Appropriations Committee to arrive at a definite figure. We are going to raise for General Fund purposes $860 million, $880 million—a definite objective fixed finally and announced to the Commonwealth that that is the money that is going to be needed. And then when we have determined and when we have provided for the essential services of the Commonwealth, then it is time to sit down and find out how we are going to finance.

There are certain taxes upon which there will be general agreement, certain taxes, perhaps, concerning which there will be pronounced disagreement, but at least we will be able to narrow the margin of disagreement and know whether we are in disagreement about $157 million, whether we are in disagreement about $100 million, or whether, as I suspect, when the needs of the Commonwealth have been properly scanned, we willl only be in disagreement concerning approximately $60 million. I say to you that we cannot proceed intelligently until we have in mind our maximum financial objective, and I rather suspect that until we adopt some such procedure that the present stalemate is likely to continue.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MORAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, browsing through a magazine stand several weeks ago I was jarred by the gruesome cover on a comic book. The contents of this colored pulp story book were so shocking I felt I had to tell you about it.

Your children can buy a nightmare for a dime. Terror for tots is big business. The Frankensteins who produce this stuff that bad dreams are made of blossom opulent on the intense curiosity and deep impressionability of the young. Tales from Twain are passe. Tales from the Crypt are sell-outs. The recipe is simple. Take the hollow face of a zombie and mix well with ghouls, shrunken heads and decomposed bodies. The bigger the portion—the better the dish.

The April-May cover of "Tales from the Crypt" features a rather shabby coffin-filled vault. A young man wearing an expression of violent dread is shown clawing at the steel door while watching a partly decomposed body draped in tattered clothing rise up from one of the wooden boxes. His nose is rotted off, eyes eaten out, part of an ear is gone, his skin hangs casually over rotted teeth yet somehow he manages to leer at the reader. By way of explanation the terrified youth at the crypt door is fed this line, "Locked . . . with . . . with this thing!" Comic? Let's turn the page.

This is the mood page to prepare you for your adventure in horror. It is clobbered with comic characters . . . a clumsily wrapped mummy, a cute, green monster with one eye and two pointed teeth, a wild-eyed ape, a few formless ghosts, a shriveled head, a dozing bat hanging head downward apparently bored with it all, and your hostess, the Crypt Keeper definitely not the twin with the toni. She speaks, "Welcome, dear friends! Come into the Crypt of terror. I see it is time to tell you another of my spine-tingling horror stories. This one is sure to freeze the blood in your veins . . . guaranteed to make shivers run up and down your crawling spine. This adventure into terror . . . this chilling ordeal is about to happen to you. You are the main character. Get a good grip on yourself."

The first story titled "Reflection of Death" talks directly and personally to the wide-eyed juvenile devotees. You are driving down the highway with a friend. There is an accident. You awaken and find yourself lying at the edge of a road. There is no sign of a wreck . . . just road reaching into the night. A car passes . . . you put your hand up to stop it . . . step up to the driver and see a look of stark terror in his eyes. He shrieks and drives away. You pass a hobo huddled near a fire. He smiles and invites you to some stews. You move into the firelight, the blood drains from his face . . . he runs screaming into the night. You come across a paper dated two months from the accident. It's impossible you think. You were driving home from a New Year's Eve party. It can't be the 26th of February. You reach your home. It is boarded up. You go to your friend's house who was with you when the accident happened. You tell him your story . . . how people screamed when they saw you but he had not. He is blind. He doesn't believe you . . . says you were killed . . . horribly mangled . . . You're dead . . . you stagger towards a mirror . . . you see a face almost completely rotted away. To quote again from this pretty prose "you scream. You open your rotted, torn, decomposed mouth and scream." The story continues through two additional pages of nauseous nightmares and once again your drooling hostess rises to greet you. "Like being a corpse, kiddies. Well, you might as well get used to it. It's bound to happen. Maybe you'll know it's coming by having a dream like the one in this story. If you do, you'll have something to look forward to."

PARLIMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, admitting the gentleman's right to talk us to death, I question whether he has the right to scare us to death.

Mr. SPEAKER. The genleman's point is well taken. The gentleman will proceed, and not be so scary.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, the fascinated little readers are then turned over to The Old Witch for a terrifying tale which she calls, "Last Respects." Briefly, this is the story of an heiress and her chauffeur. They are secretly married. Her scrooge uncle whom she lives with discovers her secret while she is delirious with pneumonia. He refuses to let her husband see her. She dies and is taken to a vault where her chauffeur husband comes to pay his last respects and to mutter over her casket that he has killed her uncle. A storm comes up and blows the door to the vault shut. He's trapped in the mausoleum. Days . . . then weeks pass. His knocking and shouting grows weaker. A month later the door is opened by an attendant who finds him recently dead. The coffin had been pried open. Bones are scattered on the floor. He had stayed alive for almost a month by catching water in an urn and eating his wife. He had died of embalming fluid poisoning. "They took him away. They put the white picked-clean bones back into the coffin and sealed it up again." The witch fades out with this bit of comment, "It was a meaty little tale wasn't it? They all killed each other so to speak. I hope you didn't . . . er . . . choke up at the sad ending. If your stomach's doing flip-flops I'll turn you back to the crypt Keeper. He has another tale for you to chew on."

This comic book is published by Educational Comic's Inc., New York City. A small seal on the upper lefthand corner of the cover stamps it as "an entertaining comic." The seal on the right is marked "conforms to the comics code. Authorized by A. C. M. P." The inside cover asks the reader to look for this seal. "This seal is used by the Association of Comics Magazine Publishers which believes in decency and good taste," They continue by stating they believe in self regulation. They say if you want the best comic magazines, always look for the seal because it is your guarantee of quality and entertainment. "Only the best comics carry the seal."

"The Association is constantly working to give you better entertainment and more information about the world we live in. It works with Parent-Teachers Associations, educational groups, women's clubs, religious organizations of every faith. Show this advertisement to your parents so they too will understand what the better comic magazine publishers are doing to raise standards."

What are they doing if they continue to publish these morbid tales? What are we doing to stop them? Your children are the victims of this terror form of comic lurking behind a code of "decency" and "good taste."

Ten cents is too big a price for your children to pay for frightful dreams, extreme fear, nervous disorders. The state legislature has the power to ban these dime monsters. You have the power to make them.

The publishers of these fright funnies are getting away with murder—the cold blooded premeditated murder of a child's peace of mind.

Mr. Speaker, on March 3, 1953, I introduced in this House of Representatives the following resolution:

In the House of Representatives, March 3, 1953.

The comic book available on the newsstand and at the magazine counter designed primarily for juvenile consumption and purchased largely by its intended market is a comparatively recent venture in the publishing world

While many comic books provide wholesome reading for children and while the contents of many others are harmless there is a type of publication masquerading as a "comic" book the subject matter of which is lurid gruesome fear-inspiring and morbid to say the least

This type of "comic" book purports to be published subject to the publishers' self-imposed code of decency If these standards are exemplified by the type of publication put on the market week after week are the best publishers can arrive at it is incumbent upon the Legislature to investigate the need for establishing standards of decency adequate to protect the impressionable minds of our children now therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study of comic books available for sale to children in this Commonwealth and to investigate their contents particularly with reference to the gruesome morbid type hereinbefore referred to After completing such study it shall make such recommendations as it deems necessary with respect to the establishment of standards commensurate with the proper education and protection of the impressionable minds of our children together with accompanying drafts of necessary legislation and submit its report thereon to the General Assembly at its next regular session

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask sincerely that the Committee on Rules give this resolution the consideration it merits. I will not even object to somebody else introducing the same resolution. Or I will not object to a cosponsor from the other side on the resolution. This is really serious in Pennsylvania and we should do something about it. There is no better way to do this than by putting in into the hands of the Joint State Government Commission.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

JOINT COMMITTEE TO STUDY EXISTING ADOPTION LAWS

Mr. McCREESH offered the following concurrent resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

In the Senate, April 21, 1953.

Whereas, The Senate Judiciary General Committee is holding a public hearing on Tuesday, the twenty-eighth day of April, at 3:00 P.M., on the adoption bills presented at the current legislative session that establish a State agency for all children placed for adoption; and

Whereas, At the present time the Commonwealth, under the Chesterman Committee survey, is trying to find ways and means of saving State moneys in order not to place new taxes on the people of Pennsylvania, these adoption bills create a new department with a number of new jobs and expenses for the State in caring for these children prior to adoption; and

Whereas, This plan will cost many millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money. Accordingly, it would be better to allow the existing child agencies to continue with their present work than for the State to spend millions of dollars of the taxpayers' moneys when the existing agencies are being maintained in greater part by private funds; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and House each appoint a committee to study existing adoption laws, to outlaw interference by persons not connected with the case, such as doctors, lawyers and nurses, to put teeth into the existing adoption laws by imposing fines, penalties and imprisonment for interference, illegal adoptions, and illegal methods of procuring these innocent children offered for adoption.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have a resolution I want to present to the Senate. It is being presented at the request of the School District of the city of Scranton. My colleague, Senator McMenamin, is not here, but I would like to quote from the letter of transmittal:

"Dear Sir:

"The enclosed resolution was unanimously adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the School District of City of Scranton held Monday evening April 13, 1953.

"I was instructed to send copies to Governor Fine, the United States Senators, Congressman Carrigg and leaders of the State Senate and House of Representatives."

Mr. President, their resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, The State of Pennsylvania has encouraged local school districts to embark upon expanded activities within the field of recreation, aid to crippled children, driver education and allied programs through a pledge to share the burden of cost for such endeavors through a system of subsidies, and

"Whereas, the State of Pennsylvania has only recently directed local districts to increase teachers' salaries, and

"Whereas, the P. S. E. A. (Legislative letter No. 3) has rightly pointed out that these broad programs which have been developed locally are dependent upon state guarantees of support which have been written into law and that the local districts cannot carry the increased tax load.

"Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Scranton School Board protests the action of state legislative leaders who, since March 31, allowed reports to be circulated that subsidies to local districts be sharply curtailed; and

"Be It Further Resolved, that the Governor of Pennsylvania, the Honorable John S. Fine and the leaders of both houses of the State Legislature be respectfully requested to seek the active support of the Pennsylvania delagation to the United States House and Senate in behalf of the Hill amendment on tidelands oil which would utilize royalties therefrom largely in behalf of national defense and education. In so acting, we specifically reject any concept for federal domination or interference with American education."

"Whereas, The United States Supreme Court in a series of decisions has ruled that the so-called tidelands oil is the common property of the American People and not of a few coastal states; and

"Whereas, there is an impelling need to use the resources therefrom for the good of the American people, especially in the fields of national security and education,

"Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Scranton School Board express its disappointment at the action of Congressman Joseph Carrigg for his support of the "give-away" program embodied in House Bill 2948 and that it respectfully requests the Congressman to reverse at the earliest opportunity the lamentable position he has assumed because of support of the House action on April 1.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, with the over-all picture before us of the dire need in this Commonwealth for school funds, the exhausted revenue supplies that we have attacked in this Commonwealth, I personally believe, and am joined by my eighteen colleagues in the Democratic Caucus, that the time has come for us to express ourselves upon this very important question.

Mr. President, as the bill is now written before the United States Congres, it goes further than the ten mile limit, and it is allowing to the various States, the so-called coastal States, all of the various minerals and wealth that may be found on the entire continental shore. Another aftermath of the passage of this legislation will probably be the claim, and rightly so, of the various States within whose borders we find the various National Parks and land reserves. We may find ourselves, the people of these United States, and the various States that have these public domain properties, being exploited for the benefit of certain States.

Therefore, Mr. President, with that in mind, I am presenting to the Chair this concurrent resolution.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO DEFEAT PROPOSED LEGISLATION REGARDING TIDELANDS OIL RESOURCES

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

Whereas, the great State of Pennsylvania, in common with its sister States throughout the Nation, is hard pressed to secure the revenues needed to meet the ever-expanding education needs of the children of our Commonwealth, and

Whereas, the great untapped oil resources which lie beneath the ocean bottom along the shores of this great Nation belong to all of the people of our country, and

Whereas, these unexploited oil reserves can provide a continuing source of income to meet the expanding educational needs of all of the children of this great Nation, if legislation were enacted earmarking the funds to be realized from the exploitation of these oil resources for the education of all of the children of our nation, therefore

Be It Resolved, that this Senate, with the House of Representatives concurring, memorializes the Congress of the United States to defeat the proposed legislation which would surrender title of the Tidelands Oil resources to a few States, and to enact legislation which would protect the interests of the people of Pennsylvania, as well as those of all of the States of the Union, by earmarking the funds to be realized from the exploitation of these oil resources for use in supplementing the education budgets of each of the 48 States. A copy of this Resolution to be forwarded to the President and Vice-President of the United States, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to all of the Senators and Representatives representing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 415, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by establishing the Department of Financial Institutions transferring to it the powers and duties of the Department of Banking and the Insurance Department providing for a Secretary of Financial Institutions defining his powers and duties abolishing the Department of Banking and the Insurance Department conferring additional powers and imposing additional duties upon the Department of State.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, Senate Bill No. 415, as I understand it, will merge the Insurance Commission with the Department of Banking. By the passage of this legislation, will the taxpayers of the Commonwealth be saved any money?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, that is a difficult question to answer. I might state that the original Chesterman Report did not so state. However, the second printing, the bound copy, says that if the two departments were combined, it is estimated that a saving of approximately $80,000 a biennium would be realized. Although, it further states that a detailed survey of the Insurance Department was not made by the Survey Committee or any Task Force.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, could you tell the Membership how long the Insurance Commission has been supervising the insurance industry in Pennsylvania?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, for the gentleman's information, the Insurance Department was organized by an act of the Legislature in 1873. It became operative in 1874, eighty years ago.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LANE. Could you tell the Membership the approximate amount of fees collected annually by the Insurance Commission?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman, may I state that the revenue collected directly by the Insurance Department for the last year was $1,011,589. For the last biennium, it was $1,773,685, but they also supervised and regulated the industry, which paid in taxes of $58,597,000 or a total of approximately $60,000,000.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, could you tell the Membership of the Senate as to whether or not the Insurance Commission stands on its own feet? In other words, does it pay its own way on the fees collected?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the answer to that is obvious. The appropriation to the department is $1,500,000, and the revenue from the industry which they regulate and supervise is $60,000,000. In other words, it is $1,500,000 appropriation; revenue, $60,000,000 aproximately.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, my reason for interrogating Senator Wade was to bring to the attention of the Membership of this Senate, and the public, that the enactment of this legislation, in my opinion, will no save the taxpayers of Pennsylvania a dollar. I feel that the Insurance Commission in Pennsylvania has been doing a splendid job over the years, and I urge the Members of the Senate on both sides to vote "no" on this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Munhall High School rifle teams, Mixed and Girls squads have captured the National Title for the second straight year, according to results released by the National Rifle Association in Washington, D. C.

In addition thereto, they won the State Championship in Dubois, Pennsylvania, and the final W.P.I.A.L. match of the season on the Oakmont range.

Munhall High School rifle teams have won State Titles ten times in twelve attempts, and in National competition have won fifteen National Titles, twice have won second honors, and once have taken third place.

The outstanding record of Munhall High School rifle teams over many years in the result of high individual excellence, a fine school spirit, and a community interest in school attainments.

This great and consistent achievement reflects credit not only on the Rifle Teams of Munhall High School, but shows that American youth can voluntarily achieve through self discipline and the desire to excel personally and for the benefit of the group, a greater degree of accomplishment than the limited ends to be achieved under the always planned activities of a regimented youth; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its congratulations to the coach of the Munhall Rifle Teams, J. Solon Wilson, and to the individual members of the Girls and Mixed Rifle Teams of Munhall High School, as well as to the administrative officers faculty, and entire student body of that fine school, for their fine spirit and great work in producing teams which have earned and received sectional State and National honors.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the Title and Section 1 of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 477), entitled, as amended "An act providing for the payment of the salary, medical and hospital expenses of policemen, firemen and park guards by counties, cities, boroughs, town and townships who are injured in the performance of their duty; and providing that absence during such injury shall not reduce any usual sick leave period," by extending its provisions to cover some cases of diseases of the heart or tuberculosis of the respiratory system; and providing for payment in the case of disability for an extended period of time.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, before making a motion to recommit this bill, I want to make a brief statement to certain officials of the city of Philadelphia who are closely affiliated with the present administration in the city, and I would like them to take notes very accurately.

I sponsored this bill at the request of policemen, firemen and park guards from all over the city of Philadelphia. They contacted me in writing, by telephone and in person because of a decision handed down by City Solicitor which provides for our uniformed men to be dismissed at the end of one year despite the fact that they might be injured or taken ill in the line of duty while protecting all the people of the city of Philadelphia.

During this current session we have heard a tremendous amount of propaganda regarding home rule in the city of Philadelphia. I would like to urge the leaders of the present administration in the city to really consider the heart of this bill very carefully and ask them to put home rule into effect and not throw to the wolves the policemen, firemen and park guards after one year of service; and those who are entitled to it and go the second mile keep them in a limited capacity as long as they are connected with these departments.

I would like to ask the representative of His Honor, the Mayor, and the representative of City Council and the City Solicitor to prove to the people of Philadelphia that they want to protect the guardians of our safety, not with mere promises and words but to take action. If in the event nothing is done prior to the adjournment of this Session of the Legislature, it is my plan to introduce another bill specifically for the cities and counties of the first class and to carry it through this House and the Senate and to urge His Excellency to sign the bill because I will know that it is sheer neglect on the part of leaders of the administration in the city of Philadelphia.

I do hope that they will show their good faith and endeavor to protect in a much better way than they have been doing during the past fifteen months the policemen, firemen and park guards.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. Speaker, I move to recommit this bill to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 660, as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Bills introduced in the General Assembly shall be printed with all punctuations that are on the original bill as introduced The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall not after any bill has been finally enacted into law make any changes in punctuation therein if such correction or change would in any manner affect or change the meaning intent or substance of such law

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall not be construed to repeal alter or amend Section 804 of The Administrative Code of 1929 nor any of the provisions of the Statutory Construction Act

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 No motor boat of more than ten horsepower shall be operated on Canadohta Lake in Crawford County

Section 2 Any person violating the provisions of this act shall upon summary conviction be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than fifty dollars ($50) and costs of prosecution or in default of the payment thereof to undergo imprisonment for not more than twenty (20) days

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ERB. I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford Mr. Kent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ERB. I would like to ask the sponsor how large is this lake?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I do not know exactly how large it is. From the best information I have, it is about a mile and a quarter square.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the reason why the gentleman want to cut down to ten horsepower on these motor boats?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, for a very simple reason. I understand from the people who have properties on the lake there are a couple twenty-five horsepower motors in the hands of minors, "hot rods" on the lake up there, and they have created a nuisance. They had a couple of very close calls where somebody could have been very badly hurt.

This bill was introduced at the request of some of the people who own properties and stay on Canadohta Lake.

Mr. ERB. Other than that cause, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this is to prohibit boats, that have high powered motors to do fishing, to prohibit them or prevent them from fishing on this lake? Because I feel this way, a lot of people have more than ten horsepower boats and now they will have to do away with these boats in that territory.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, to the best of my knowledge this would affect about three or four people who have motors of probably twenty-five horsepower.

Of course the fishing will be much better in Canadohta Lake if they get rid of those high speed boats. I do not believe you fish out of a twenty-five horsepowered boat.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I feel this bill is a discrimination according to my way of thinking to people who love to fish, who have already purchased high horsepowered motors, and I do not see that it will do any harm. Because today you are raising the motor power of boats, high speed boats, like automobiles, and everything else to go faster. I feel this matter should have been left to the people back home to buy and place on their boats more than ten horsepower.

Therefore I am going to vote against this bill.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, the only thing I would like to say in reply to the gentleman is that the situation at Canadohta Lake was brought to the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Haudenshield, and myself. The bill was introduced at the request of people on Canadohta Lake in order to limit the horsepower of boats on Canadohta Lake, due to its size, the nuisance it was causing and the danger it is creating to other users of that lake.

It is not going to affect any body except people who live on Canadohta Lake. I do not know whether there is anybody here, outside of maybe the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, who has a place there or goes down there, but I would ask the Members to vote for the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is a good bill, a very good bill and I yield to the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, this bill is essentially a safety measure. There are speed limits on the highways regulating the speed at which vehicles may travel in the interest of the traveling public to protect life and property.

On a small lake such as Canadohta there are a great many cottages, a great many pleasure loving people out for recreation. There are also a great many children who go out in row boats, canoes, and smaller boats.

Unfortunately there is no law now in the Commonwealth which effectively prevents anyone with a super high powered boat from exercising the full speed and power of his boat on such lakes as Canadohta. When he does so it creates tremendous waves and I would not want one of my kids out in a row boat or other small boat trying to cope with the wave caused by a twenty-five horsepower speed boat operated by a fellow out maybe just trying to have fun.

That is the point of this bill entirely. It is a safety measure. I intend to vote for the bill. I think it is a good bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities-Counties—First—Second and Second Class A for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, again I would like to direct my remarks to the leaders of the new administration of the city of Philadelphia who have urged that this bill not be recommitted but defeated.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is requested to confine his remarks to the motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I will be very specific on that subject, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to direct my remarks to the leaders of the new administration of the city of Philadelphia who, according to reports in the public press, have apparently worked out a satisfactory agreement in reference to the provisions of this bill with some of the most distinguished citizens in our city who were elected to the Fairmount Park Commission or the Board of Judges who were elected by the people.

One of the leaders of the Fairmount Park Commission is the Honorable John B. Kelley, who in my opinion is one of our outstanding citizens, a great Philadelphian and who is interested in Philadelphia. If His Honor, the Mayor, is in accord with the wishes of the citizens who are serving on the Fairmount Park Commission, I believe it is perfectly satisfactory to recommit this bill for further study.

I would like to make a personal remark for the benefit of the representatives of the administration and the citizens on the Park Commission, that there are 18 park guards who have served faithfully and well on the Park Commission.

Due to some quirk in the legal technicalities of the city charter, those 18 men might lose their jobs. I understand quite a few of those men are veterans; they served in the second World War, and they should be permitted to remain in their positions because some of them have been connected with the Park Commission for seven and eight years, and have done their jobs. I hope the members of the Park Commission will retain these men because they have earned the positions.

The City Solicitor of Philadelphia has handed down different kinds of decisions pertaining to the Houme Rule Charter, and I am sure that the eminent attorney should be able to direct the Personnel Director of the City of Philadelphia, Frank Escovito who was from Sacramento, California, and give him some idea of how these 18 guards can be retained. If in the event anything happens to those men as far as their positions are concerned—

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I am sticking to the subject and I am coming to it in a moment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. I raise the point of order that the gentleman is not confining his remarks to the motion to recommit, in conformity with the spirit of the Rule. He is instead making a studied and insulting political speech. It invites controversy over a motion upon which we are in agreement, and I ask the Chair to rule upon the point of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair admonishes the gentleman from Philadelphia to confine his remarks to the motion to recommit.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I will. None of my remarks are offensive. They are factual. I would never insult anyone on this floor. If I did that, Iwould rather do it in person.

I would like to say to the distinguished Minority Leader that a 20th century miracle is about to occur because all the Members from Philadelphia, as far as I know, are in favor of the recommitment, but I cannot see any objection to emphasizing the fact that the provisions of this bill should be carried out in the agreement that has been arranged by the mayor and the citizens on the Fairmount Park Commission. I am perfectly wi'ling to recommit the bill if those facts are taken into consideration and without any insults, I assure the Minority Leader.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker. We in Montgomery County have no interest in a fight such as this between Philadelphians, be they Democrats or Republicans, but we do have a very definite interest in Fairmount Park. Fairmount Park, as you know, was authorized by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. The Board of Judges of Philadelphia, I believe, appoint the Commissioners of the Park.

While the Park was operated as a separate entity by Philadelphia, we had nothing to fear, but Fairmount Park comes out into Montgomery County. There is a large section of it under the jurisdiction of the Fairmount Park Commissioners and certain additional commissioners for what is known as Fort Washington Park. That Park also goes down into Delaware County, and we are somewhat apprehensive of having the City Council of Philadelphia have jurisdiction over a part of Montgomery County.

If a bill of this type cannot come on the floor for debate and for voting action, then we will be forced by necessity to introduce a bill to divorce that part of Fairmount Park now in Montgomery County from the city of Philadelphia. We, too, believe in home rule, we think we can rule Montgomery County a whole lot better than the city of Philadelphia can, and we will be forced to work to that end.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will all the sponsors permit themseves to be interrogated?

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to defer to the Chairman of the Committee on Motor Vehicles, Mr. Guthrie.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman yields to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Guthrie. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain what this bill does or what is the purpose of the bill.

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, this bill has to do with a four lane highway which is separated by considerable space. In other words, the highways do not run directly parallel with each other.

If the gentleman is familiar with Route 22 coming down Cresson Mountain, I might use that as an example. Under the present law, you can drive an automobile up the left highway so long as the keep on the right hand side of the highway and you would not be in violation of the law. All this measure does is to make it illegal to go up on the wrong side of a divided highway. There are several places in Pennsylvania where they have this particular type of highway—they do not run exactly parallel with each other.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman a further question. Is it not now a law that you shall not drive on the wrong side of the road?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, under this present condition the driver would be on the right hand side of the road. It would be a two lane highway. However, it is one way traffic on the right hand parallel and it is the other way traffic on the left hand parallel—however, it is a two lane highway. Under the present law you could move on the left hand highway so long as you stayed on the right hand side of that particular lane. It is a little hard to explain, but it is a condition that exists in about three different places in Pennsylvania.

Mr. MORAN. That is all, Mr. Speaker. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf for presiding.

REMARKS EXTENDED ON RECORD

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to incorporate a communication in the record without reading it:

April 20, 1953.

Honorable C. A. French
Executive Director
Pennsylvania Fish Commission
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. French:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 9, 1953, wherein you state:

"After you appeared before the meeting of the Commission on Monday, April 6, 1953,, they discussed at length the new setup in the state and it was unanimously voted that the new set up would be kept as is in the North-Central Division.

"I did explain to you in a former letter that additional changes would be made in other sections of the state as the new program develops and the Commission wanted me to again state this fact to you."

Under date of February 26, 1953, I wrote to you:

"Under the proposed new setup of wardens districts, how many of these men is it proposed will have to move from their present locations to new quarters?"

Under date of March 3, 1953, you replied:

"At the present time two (2) wardens are moving from their present locations, and I am informed there will be others required to move their headquarters, as the new program developes."

Under date of March 5, 1953, I wrote to you:

"How do you reconcile your information of two (2) wardens moving from their present locations with four (4) that I already know about? Who are the two (2) wardens you refer to and what do their moves consist of? Just how many wardens is it proposed to move under the new proposed set up?"

Under date of March 11, 1953, you replied:

"In my letter of March Third, I stated that, at the present time, two (2) wardens were moving from their present location. I did not mention the four (4) who had already moved, as I am certain you already knew about these.

"The new warden setup has been put into effect in the entire state. The two (2) moves mentioned in my letter of March 3, involved the transfer of headquarters from Oil City to Franklin in Venango County, and from Bowmanstown to East Mauch Chunk in Carbon County.

"As explained to you in my March Third letter also, there will be additional moves in the state."

The new warden setup has been put into effect in the entire state. There will be additional changes. What kind of double talk is this?

Late in March, 1953, after the exchange of the above correspondence, (with the exception of your letter of April 9), I received the March 1953, "Pennsylvania Angler", official publication of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

I challenge you or any member, officer or employee of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to point out to me on page 16 and 17 of said issue in the article, "Reassignment of Pennsylvania Fish Wardens", where it is stated, indicated or intimated that there are, will be, or is even proposed, any further changes in the warden setup.

While you were stringing me along with one story you were doing and acting just the exact opposite. While you were writing and telling me one thing, you well knew or should have known of the story that was coming out in the "Angler" for public consumption, diametrically opposed. Is this the kind of governmental integrity we are entitled to expect from the Pennsylvania Fish Commission?

Let it be emphatically known at this point that I am not raising the issue to force the relocation of any other wardens in the state. I raise the issue to determine the justice and justification of the relocation of four (4) wardens in the North-Central Division. I certainly would not want any warden relocated under the circumstances or for the purposes they have been in the North-Central Division.

The March Issue of the "Pennsylvania Angler" disclosed another amazing fact, to wit:

Comparing an official warden list dated September 1, 1952 together with addresses and telephone numbers with the list published on page 17, I find:

1. The wardens in Venango and Carbon Counties published on page 17 do not appear on the September 1, 1952 list. These are new men. New locations were established with new men, not new locations with old men. One half of the story you never disclosed in the "Angler", nor to me.

2. This therefore leaves the four (4) men in the North-Central Division as the only ones in the entire state required to move from their former locations. You leave me with but one conclusion, to wit: That three (3) of these men are expendable, if necessary, in order to squeeze out the fourth man.

In the case of one of these four, the one we allege you are trying to squeeze out of the service, it will be necessary that he sell his home, and his wife quit teaching school. In his new location he would be expected to get along on the same salary as before. Recommendations from you as to how this can be accomplished will be greatly appreciated.

In the case of another, he would be required to move back to a community he was authorized by the Commission within the past year to leave, because it was financially impossible for him to survive in said community. Apparently the human element means nothing to the Fish Commission.

In the case of another when it was found that his new district still embraced his old home, his district was reset to within four miles of his old home so that he could not return to his old home without violating regulations of the Commission.

In the case of one who was not moved, it is interesting to note that he is a long time hunting and fishing pal of one of the Commisisoners. It is also to be noted about this same warden that he is located in the heart of the Leidy Gas Field. As a side line, he is engaged in gas leasing and operations. His new fish warden territory however, it is to be noted, was expanded westward and southward to take in the new Driftwood Gas Field. Shades of mink coats and deep-freezers!

3. Cameron County, in the heart of the trout fishing of the state, and which has enjoyed a resident fish warden for the past 12 years, has had the resident warden eliminated and the county divided among three other wardens, with no clear cut division of their territories according to the way they have been operating.

As to the economy to be effected in the North-Central Division, your actual figures for warden expense for the year 1952 was $15,418.64. Your budgeted figures for the year 1953 are $15,200.00 plus $600.00 reserve for emergencies and contingencies. This sounds to me like economy in reverse, and smacks of reasons other than economy or efficiency for the moves in the North-Central Division; and more especially so when you tell me that the new warden setup is based upon the number of miles of streams stocked by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission and not on the miles of fishable waters which have heretofore been patroled. For example, in Cameron County 98 miles are stocked but more than 250 miles are fishable.

The directors of the Federated Sportsmens' Clubs of the state recently called upon you about this problem. When the officials of the Commission were unable to justify their position, you then saw fit to use a private letter to a third person, which by some devious method turned up in your hands, to sidetrack further legitimate inquiry by the directors, and to smear one man. Why?

When I asked you at the meeting of the Commission on April 6, if such a letter was used, you and one of the Commissioners refused to state, because you said it would be violating a confidence. I ask, what confidence? And whose confidence? I checked this matter with one of the directors over the last week-end and he verified that you and one of the Commissioners did use such a letter. You did not tell the writer of the letter that you had it, or that you were going to use it. You thought nothing of violating the confidence of this letter when you showed it to the Directors? Yet it was too confidential to admit to me. Why? Were you afraid that I would lay before the Commission confidential information I have in my possession, and that the Commission would really find out the truth about what some of the field force and others think and say about the Fish Commission? Were you and are you afraid that you would find out the truth about some of your field force?

I challenge you to call these same directors back to your office and permit them to hear the man whose confidence you violated, and to hear all the facts in the warden relocations?

You have attempted to squeeze one man out of the service by the relocation device. A man who saw fit to perform his duties as a warden. Until this happened I could not believe that an agency of government would try to squeeze a person out of service for the performance of duties which the law clearly imposes upon that person?

Very truly yours,
Edwin W. Tompkins

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it had been our intention to offer a motion to discharge the Committee from the custody of one of the enabling rent control bills in its possesion. On more mature thought, it has occurred to us that perhaps the Committee needs a little more time to study that particular type of legislation and the need for it.

We have therefore decided to delay action until next week upon this paritcular matter.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, since the Minority Leader yesterday called this particular problem to my attention I have done some inquiring, and it is true that rent control on a federal basis will soon expire.

I understand that the President has requested Congress to extend rent control. I hope between now and next week to have some answer as to the likelihood of the National Congress putting through a rent control extension act. If we find they are not going to do that, serious consideration will be given to rent control legislation.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. LIPPINCOTT asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. HAUDENSHIELD, THOMPSON, COOPER and EWING offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1953.

On Saturday, April 18, 1952 Judge W. Herber Ditrich, one of Pennsylvania's truly outstanding jurists, died at his home in Allegheny County.

Judge Ditrich was elevated to the superior court in 1944 after serving nearly fourteen years on the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County.

Prior to the beginning of his judicial career, Judge Ditrich served four years as county solicitor of Allegheny County and two years as first assistant United States attorney.

The members of the General Assembly are particularly proud that he was a member of the House of Representatives from 1917 to 1921. In his last term he served as chairman of the judiciary general committee.

After graduating from Mercersburg Academy, Washington and Jefferson College, and the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, he was admitted to the bar of Allgheny County and of the supreme court. He interrupted his private affairs twice to serve his country, serving as a first lieutenant of cavalry on the Mexican border and during the first World War.

Judge Ditrich was a director of the Coraopolis National Bank and the Ohio Valley Trust Company. He was a member of the Twenty-eighth Division Society, American Legion, Sons of Union Veterans, the Ecclesiastical Court of the Pittsburgh Episcopal Diocese, the Round Table Conference of Christians and Jews, the Mercersburg Academy Board of Regents, Masonic orders, Elks, Eagles, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Delta Phi, the Allegheny Country Club and the Duquesne Club.

The outstanding feature of Judge Ditrich's career is the fine reputation as an able jurist he earned during his tenure on the bench. Judges and lawyers, and others who follow the decisions of our appellate courts, are unanimous in their acclaim of him. He has frequently been described as exceptionally well fitted for a high judicial post, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) That the members of the General Assembly pay tribute to the memory of Judge W. Heber Ditrich, and on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania express our gratitude for his long and distinguished service to his State, and be it further

Resolved, That we extend our deepest and most sincere sympathy to his beloved wife and family in their hour of great loss, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Lois Ditrich, his widow, at Fleming Street, Coraopolis, Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the resolution that I offer deals with human lives. We in our county have a bad piece of road approximately one mile long. Every official in Beaver County, labor unions and people of any importance have tried in every way to have something done to eliminate the hazard on this highway.

Aliquippa serves approximately 45,000 people—the town itself consists of approximately 30,000 people, but people traveling to and from Aliquippa for shopping and going to work must cover this piece of road. In 1949 one of the buses leaving town and going to Pittsburgh along this highway met with a disaster that took the lives of 24 of the 25 people riding this bus.

Since that time we have had quite a few slides, large and small. Last Sunday night while preparing to come down here I received a telephone call from the Chamber of Commerce telling me that we would not be able to go through there due to the largest rock fall that we have ever had. The road is tied up now, and I have some pictures here of the debris that came down onto that road.

One of these buses was held up for about five minutes as I understand it, for passengers that had called the station. That is the only reason this bus with approximately 20 people on it was not caught in this slide.

The pictures will show you that the bus was close enough to the slide that certain parts of the slide compelled the bus to be tied up. However, the bus was not damaged and nobody was hurt.

As I understand it everybody in Beaver County of any importance has tried without any success to have something done about this piece of road. Different organizations have gone to the Highway Department. We have been referred from pillar to post. The last time we were sent back to the Highway Department engineer in the city of Pittsburgh. He has been down there two or three times, and as I see the picture they feel that money is more important than human lives. Something should be done. That is the reason I offer this resolution and I would like the Members of this House, whether Republican or Democrat, to support it so that we can have something done down there, because while I am talking to you here now, a member of somebody's family might be crushed by a rock fall.

I might say every time I go to Ambridge with my family or by myself, if it is possible, I travel to the far side of this highway so that if a rock fall does come down, I will be as far away from it as I possibly can be and possibly instead of being crushed, I will be shoved over the hillside. Therefore, I ask your help in trying to eliminate this hazard.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, this is not a privileged resolution and will be filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the House that we do have this Rule that non-privileged resolutions will be filed with the Clerk.

We have been very lenient on both sides of the House, shall we say, in permitting non-privileged resolutions to be read. We have been lenient in permitting speeches to be made when a resolution is about to be introduced. The purpose of the rule is to prevent bogging down a busy session. I realize that we have been going at a slow pace this session and, therefore, we have been lenient and gracious about these various matters.

I am saying this not to admonish anybody, but when we finally get into high gear and are about to wind up our proceedings we hope that speeches on non-privileged resolutions and matters of that kind will be kept at a minimum.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, while I am in general agreement with the statements of the Majority Leader, I must call his and the Chair's attention to the fact that when a resolution proposes a specific action upon the part of this House, there should be a provision in the Rule that gives it privilege.

There is a difference between a general resolution congratulating somebody who is not a Member of the House and never has been, and a resolution which submits a definite problem to the attention of the House. If the Rules do not now provide that such resolutions are entitled to the attention of the House, then there should either be a reinterpretation of the Rule or an expansion of the Rule.

I am not inclined to raise my question at this time, but I do suggest that the Chair and the Parliamentarian give consideration to the fact that certain resolutions not now classed as privileged, should be privileged, because they present definite problems for the consideration of this House.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the present Rule provides that all non-privileged resolutions be filed with the Clerk and then referred to a Committee and printed for information of Members of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will this resolution be printed for the information of the Committee and the information of the Members?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the gentleman's parliamentary inquiry, this resolution will be printed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, and will it brought to the attention of the Rules Committee?

The SPEAKER. It will be brought to the attention of the Rules Committee under the present Rule.

Mr. ANDREWS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

As far as the other type of resolution, congratulating the most prosperous farmer in the county and paying tribute to the most beauteous teacher and the generally spreading goo around the local horizon, I am quite in agreement that that type of resolution is not entitled to the immediate consideration either of this House or the immediate consideration of the Committee and the Members should cooperate with the Chair, cooperate with the leadership and not ask that resolutions that do not present any business or any problem to the attention of the House be not read and be not commented on at length.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. POLASKI asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent ot add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. SCHMIDT, WILT, EWING, COOPER, HAUDENSHIELD, GEER, THOMPSON and VAUGHAN offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Rpresentatives, April 21, 1953.

Weheras, The Honorable F. Garret Richter and his wife, Bettie became the happy parents of a third child named Penny Anne Richter, on Saturday, April 18, 1953; and

Whereas, Mr. Richter and his wife, Bettie, with their two other children, Pattie Lynne, aged six and one-half years and Gary, aged two and one-half years have formed an exemplary family group which has been richly enhanced; therefore be it Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its heartfelt and sincere congratulations to the Honorable F. Garret Richter and Mrs. Richter on the birth of their third child.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richter.

Mr. RICHTER. Mr. Speaker, I want very much to thank my colleague and neighbor from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, for introducing this resolution along with the other cosponsors. I also want to thank the House for passing it.

The little girl's name is Penny Anne. The Penny we call her, which is rather indicative of her father's bank balance at the present. I hope she grows up with a lot of "cents."

So again I thank you all. Mrs. Richter thanks you and Penny thanks you.

The SPEAKER. While the gentleman is handing out cigars, the Chair would inform him that the Minority Leader does not smoke cigars, and any good brand of tobacco would suffice.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. BOLTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

FORMER MEMBERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to present to the House a former Member who served here for many years, the gentleman from Indiana, Honorable William R. McMillen.

The Chair is also pleased to welcome another former Member of the House from Somerset County, Honorable Frank A. Orban.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, the Majority Leader, if he has heard anything about that filibuster down in Washington on the tide oil lands.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, no, I have not. I have not heard anything about it. I have kept my eye on the Harrisburg scene.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman noticed anything in the paper about it?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, yes, I have read it in the paper.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman heard it over the radio?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, personally, I just look at televison.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I further ask the gentleman if he could tell me just how much money the state of Pennsylvania would get if we got a little slice of that for the lamps of learning in Pennsylvania. We seem to need a lot of money here. I thought maybe we could do something about this.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have not any idea. It would probably run up to 40 billion.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that that would be at least some help to us?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, naturally, oil for the lamps of education would be fine, that is right.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I do not know how brief my remarks will be. Sometimes when I get started I forget about the clock. We do not seem to be going anywhere or doing anything, so it would not matter if I made a speech for an hour or two, would it?

I want to say that since the gentleman has stated possibly $40 million or was it billion, it might be a good idea if we wrote letters down to Washington while this filibuster is going on. Maybe we could do something about getting a little revenue to help the state of Pennsylvania.

On the other hand, I want to say that we seem to be wasting a lot of time. A joint resolution passed the Senate back about one month ago, within days, that would give us the right of a regular session of the Legislature every year. I do not think there can be any changes made in that particular resolution. We already have passed it at one other session of the Legislature. It is my understanding that if it passes now, it will go to a vote of the people. I am very much interested in that legislation and I do not know why we are wasting our time when we at least could be acting upon that type of legislation which is in the hands of our Committee in the House at this particular time and has been for sometime.

They sometimes accuse the minority of not helping in our problems today. I want to assure you that I, myself—and I think my colleagues over here—are only too glad to help in any way in order to solve this problem and get it over with.

This regular session of the Legislature, to my mind, would be a big help. We do a lot of talking about a broad-base tax for the state of Pennsylvania. To my knowledge the labor organizations almost in toto have come out in favor of a graduated income tax.

I do not know what we are fooling around about. I do not know why we at least do not pass the amendment to the Constitution giving the people the right to vote upon wheher or not the Legislature shall enact a graduated income tax.

As I said before, we have wasted a lot of time. The Joint State Government Commission, to my mind, has recommended such legislation. Everybody seems to be in favor of that, but the Legislature just does not do anything about it.

Now I think that it is time that we do get together, the Republicans and the Democrats, and get that particular type of legislation out of the Committee, on to the floor, get it passed and get the Governor to sign it, and give the people the right to vote on it. Our problems then will be solved. We can have a nice broad-base tax. Everybody will be happy. The Legislature will be able to do its job. The services of the state will not be neglected. Our schools will be taken care of. Everything will be lovely.

So, let's be fair, Members, go to work and do something about this problem, today. We have lots of time.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FILO. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1953.

The Presidential propensity toward the ancient and honorable game of golf has brought anguish to the hearts of his fellow Pennsylvanians.

The anguish occassioned is of a two-fold nature, the first is the fear of injury to our President while enroute to the more distant golf courses. The second is that Pennsylvania possesses some of the most difficult and most beautiful golf courses in the world and that the President could lessen the mental anguish upon his fellow Pennsylvanians and the entire nation by traveling the shorter distance to Pennsylvania, where he could enjoy golf at its finest, and, also afford our country clubs the honor of saying, "Ike shot a three under par here, now, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the House of Representatives, on behalf of the fine country clubs in Pennsylvania, extend a hearty invitation to President Eisenhower to continue his pursuit of this honorable game in the state of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WILLIAM B. SMITH, ROBERT K. HAMILTON and STONER. RESOLUTION No. 50.

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1953.

Constitution Boulevard between the Ambridge Bridge and Alliquippa, due to tremendous rock slides constitutes a great peril to the life and limb to many residents of the surrounding area and other persons using it for vehicular traffic.

In 1949 a bus was engulfed by a horrifying rock slide and twenty-four of its passengers were killed on this boulevard.

Many rock slides have occurred since that time on this stretch of boulevard, the greatest and most terrifying having occurred last Sunday, at which time another bus, slightly behind schedule missed involvement in another great tragedy which would have been as great as the 1949 catastrophe if the bus would have been on schedule.

Among the regular users of this stretch of boulevard are approximately twenty-five percent of the employes of the Aliquippa Works of the Jones and Laughin Steel Company. Other regular users of the boulevard are great numbers of persons going to the great shopping center of Aliquippa and the large numbers of persons who enter the Warrendale interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The correction of the perilous conditions on this boulevard is of great concern to all persons residing in the surrounding area, and the local labor unions, the chamber of commerce, the Beaver County Planning Commission, and all local officials have recognized the horrible condition now prevalent and are greatly concerned with their correction.

The Pennsylvania Department of Highways has refused to act despite the great danger involved for so great a number of people, on the basis of the expense involved. To continue this lack of affirmative action by proper State authorities in view of the tremendous danger to motorists who must use this boulevard would be a sad and fearful neglect of official duty; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall take immediate steps to stop this constant danger to life and limb on the Constitution Boulevard between Ambridge Bridge and Aliquippa and protect the innocent users of that boulevard from sudden and horrible death when engulfed by the terrifying rock slides constantly occurring on that boulevard.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. C. HARRY KEHM, Pastor of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, Allentown, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal and everlasting God, our heavenly Father, as we meet together, the Members of this Senate, chosen by our own people to lead the work of this Commonwealth, we invoke Thy blessing upon us. Give us more than an understanding, but give us wisdom and give us love, and then give us the purity of mind that all those things which we do may be done in Thy name for the good of our people.

We humbly seek Thee, Heavenly Father, for always we do err and come short of Thy glory. Yet, we know that when you have forgiven us through Thy Son's name, we have a chance to do better. Help up always to seek the best ways of life. Give us courage and boldness of heart to stand for the things that are true. Somehow may we ennoble our characters by the virtues which are seen in us.

Unite us together in unity of spirit, oneness of purpose and help us in every act. Add Thy blessing and grant us faithful hearts. In Jesus' Name, we pray, Amen.

HOUSE MESSAGES

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

CONDOLENCE

In the House of Representatives, April 21, 1953.

On Saturday, April 18, 1952 Judge W. Herber Ditrich, one of Pennsylvania's truly outstanding jurists, died at his home in Allegheny County.

Judge Ditrich was elevated to the superior court in 1944 after serving nearly fourteen years on the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County.

Prior to the beginning of his judicial career, Judge Ditrich served four years as county solicitor of Allegheny County and two years as first assistant United States attorney.

The members of the General Assembly are particularly proud that he was a member of the House of Representatives from 1917 to 1921. In his last term he served as chairman of the judiciary general committee.

After graduating from Mercersburg Academy, Washington and Jefferson College, and the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, he was admitted to the bar of Allegheny County and the supreme court. He interrupted his private affairs twice to serve his country, serving as a first lieutenant of cavalry on the Mexican border and during the first World War.

Judge Ditrich was a director of the Coraopolis National Bank and the Ohio Valley Trust Company. He was a member of the Twenty-eighth Division Society, American Legion, Sons of Union Veterans, the Ecclesiastical Court of the Pittsburgh Episcopal Diocese, the Round Table Conference of Christians and Jews, the Mercersburg Academy Board of Regents, Masonic orders, Elks, Eagles, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Delta Phi, the Allegheny County Club and the Duequesne Club.

The outstanding feature of Judge Ditrich's career is the fine reputation as an able jurist he earned during his tenure on the bench. Judges and lawyers, and others who follow the decisions of our appellate courts, are unanimous in their acclaim of him. He has frequently been described as exceptionally well fitted for a high judicial post, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) That the members of the General Assembly pay tribute to the memory of Judge W. Heber Ditrich, and on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania express our gratitude for his long and distinguished service to his State, and be it further

Resolved, That we extend our deepest and most sincere sympathy to his beloved wife and family in their hour of great loss, and be it further

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the forgoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, many times as we go through our legislative life, we lose track of the really important things. To that end, today I am presenting a resolution in the Senate concerning the last three Pennsylvania boys who have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in the Korean conflict.

Mr. President, I read, for the record, the award given the latest one, the fifty-eighth veteran to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor in Korea:

"Corporal Clifton T. Speicher, an Army Infantryman from Gray, Pennsylvania, has been awarded the Medal of Honor for singlehanded destruction of an enemy machine gun nest at the cost of his life near Minari-gol, Korea, Secretary of the Army, Robert T. Stevens, announced today.

"Corporal Speicher, 21 years old, was a member of the assaulting element of Company F, 223rd Infantry Regiment, 40th Infantry Division, which was attacking an enemy-held hill early on June 14, 1952. Although wounded by an exploding enemy grenade, and later by small arms fire, he refused medical aid and continued his advance up the hill.

"Charging into an enemy bunker in the face of blazing gunfire, Corporal Speicher killed two of its occupants with his rifle and a third with his bayonet, and silenced the machine gun. A fourth enemy soldier, later shot by Corporal Speicher's comrades, fired point blank, further wounding the heroic soldier. Corporal Speicher walked unassisted to the foot of the hill, where he collapsed and died.

"Corporal Speicher's conspicuous gallantry and intrepid actions in silencing the machine gun allowed his unit to reach its objective and accomplish its mission.

"The Army's 58th Medal of Honor winner to be announced since the outbreak of fighting in Korea, Corporal Speicher is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Speicher of Box 106, Gray, Pennsylvania.

"An eyewitness account of Corporal Speicher's heroic act is provided by a member of his squad, Corporal Rudy G. Polin, of 750 East 84th Place, Los Angeles, California.

" 'In the attack on Hill 499 on the morning of June 14, 1952, Corporal Speicher went with the assault squad of the second platoon, of which I was a Browning Automatic Rifleman. About half way up the hill, Corporal Speicher was knocked down and wounded by an enemy hand grenade. He got up and refused medical aid and continued up the hill in the attack.

" 'When we were three-fourths of the way to the top, a machine gun pinned us down. Corporal Speicher fearlessly arose from his position and charged into the face of the blazing enemy fire. When he was about ten yards from the bunker, he was hit and knocked down once more, this time by small arms fire. He rose to his feet and continued to move in on the machine gun nest and disappeared inside. A few minutes later, three men from our squad moved cautiously up to the machine gun, because it had ceased firing. They shot an enemy soldier who had just shot Corporal Speicher. Three more enemy lay dead on the floor. Corporal Speicher had killed them. Corporal Speicher walked unsteadily outside and down the hill without saying anything to anyone.'

"Corporal Speicher was born on March 25, 1931, at Gray, Somerset County, Pennsylvania. He enlisted in the Army on January 11, 1951, and was ordered to the Far East Command in June, 1951.

"Text of the Medal of Honor citation follows:

" 'Corporal Clifton T. Speicher, Infantry, United States Army, a member of Company F. 223rd Infantry Regiment, 40th Infantry Division, distinguished himself by conspicuous gallantry and indomitable courage above and beyond the call of duty in action against the enemy near Minari-gol, Korea, on 14 June 1952. While participating in an assault to secure a key terrain feature, Corporal Speicher's squad was pinned down by withering small arms, mortar and machine gun fire. Although already wounded, he left the comparative safety of his position, and made a daring charge against the machine gun emplacement. Within ten yards of the goal, he was again wounded by small arms fire, but continued on, entered the bunker, killed two hostile soldiers with his rifle, a third with his bayonet, and silenced the machine gun. Inspired by this incredible display of valor, the men quickly moved up and completed the mission. Dazed and shaken, he walked to the foot of the hill where he collapsed and died. Corporal Speicher's consummate sacrifice and unflinching devotion to duty reflect lasting glory upon himself and uphold the noble traditions of the military service.' "

Mr. President, another Pennsylvania Congressional Medal of Honor winner, incorporated in the same resolution, who comes from Bellwood, Blair County, Senator Mallery's District, had this citation. This boy, too, died in order to achieve the Congressional Medal of Honor in this Korean War.

"Sergeant First Class William S. Sitman (Service No. RA 33 571 970), Infantry, United States Army, Company M, 23rd Infantry Regiment, distinguished himself by conspicuous gallantry and interpidity above and beyond the call of duty in action against an armed enemy of the United Nations near Chipyong-ni, Korea, on 14 February 1951. Sergeant Sitman, a machine gun section leader of Company M, was attached to Company I, under attack by a numerically superior hostile force. During the encounter, when an enemy grenade knocked out his machine gun, a squad from Company I immediately emplaced a light machine gun and Sergeant Sitman and his men remained to provide security for the crew. In the ensuing action, the enemy lobbed a grenade into the position and Sergeant Sitman, fully aware of the odds against him selflessly threw himself on it, absorbing the full force of the explosion with his body. Although mortally wounded in this fearless display of valor, his intrepid act saved five men from death or serious injury, and enabled them to continue inflicting withering fire on the ruthless foe throughout the attack. Sergeant Sitman's noble self-sacrificing and consummate devotion to duty reflect lasting glory on himself and uphold the honored traditions of the military service."

Mr. President, the third Pennsylvania Congressional Medal of Honor winner in Korea comes from Senator Letzler's District, Mahaffey, Pennsylvania. His citation, incorporated in this same resolution, reads as follows:

"Private First Class Melvin L. Brown, Company D., 8th Engineer Combat Battalion, distinguished himself by conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action against an enemy on 4 September 1950, near Kasan, Korea. While his platoon was securing Hill 755 (The Walled City) the enemy, using heavy automatic weapons and small arms, counterattacked. Taking a position on a fifty-foot high wall, he delivered heavy rifle fire on the enemy. His ammunition was soon expended and although wounded, he remained at his post and threw his few grenades into the attackers causing many casualties. When his supply of grenades was exhausted his comrades from nearby foxholes tossed others to him and he left his position, braving a hail of fire, to retrieve and throw them at the enemy. The attackers continued to asault his position and Private Brown, weaponless, drew his intrenching tool from his pack and calmly waited until they, one by one, peered over the wall, delivering each a crushing blow upon the head. Knocking ten or twelve enemy from the wall, his daring action so inspired his platoon that they repelled the attack and held their position. Private Brown's extraordinary heroism, gallantry and intrepidity reflects the highest credit upon himself and was in keeping with the honored traditions of the military service."

Mr. President, six Pennsylvania born people have achieved this goal, the highest honor in the heart and hand of a grateful Nation to present them.

SENATE RESOLUTION

THANKS OF THE COMMONWEALTH EXTENDED TO FAMILIES OF THREE SERVICEMEN WHO WERE AWARDED CONGRESSIONAL MEDALS OF HONOR

Messrs. HARE, LETZLER and MALLERY, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 27, 1953.

"..... distinguished himself by conspicious gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action against an armed enemy of the United States ....." So reads the Nation's highest military honor for heroism in combat, the United States Congressional Medal of Honor. Three Pennsylvanias have been awarded this medal since the outbreak of the Korean War.

Private First Class Melvin L. Brown, of Mahaffey, received the award December 1, 1950, for his heroic action at Kasan, where unarmed, except for his intrenching tool, stalled an enemy attack by killing twelve enemy soldiers with this inadequate weapon, thereby encouraging his platoon to repell the attack.

Sergeant First Class William S. Sitman, of Bellwood, was given the award posthumously, December 14, 1951, for his bravery in selflessly throwing himself upon an enemy grenade, and giving his life so that the remaining members of his gun crew could remain alive to aid in stemming the enemy attack.

Corporal Clifton T. Speicher, of Gray, was posthumously awarded this Medal, April 6, 1953. The medal was the fifty-eighth given since the Korean War. Corporal Speicher, single-handedly, wiped out an enemy machine gun nest. He was wounded twice before reaching the gun emplacement and was killed by the surviving enemy soldier of the four-man crew, the other three having been killed by Corporal Speicher.

Pennsylvanians have distinguished themselves by their valor in all wars, from the earliest Indian conflicts to the Korean campaign.

The exploits of these three men forcibly demonstrate that liberty cannot be purchased by a single payment, but rather, the price of liberty is of a continuing nature.

Pennsylvania is justly proud of all her soldier-citizens and especially so of these three men, who in the words of their commendation "have reflected lasting glory upon themselves and upheld the honored traditions of the military service by the self-sacrificing and consummate devotion to duty"; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate, on behalf of the citizens of this State, extend to each of the families of Sergeant William S. Sitman, and Corporal Clifton T. Speicher and to Melvin L. Brown the heartfelt, though inadequate, thanks of the Commonwealth for their sacrifices.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 125 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BERGER, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. BERGER, on March 16, 1953, reported the same with amendments as follows:

REQUESTING THAT PLAQUE OF DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON BE PUBLICLY ENSHRINED IN THE ROTUNDA OF THE CAPITOL

In the Senate, March 16, 1953.

It is appropriate that a plaque of Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, the Commonwealth's first Commissioner of Health, be publicly enshrined. Dr. Dixon was appointed in the year one thousand nine hundred five, by Governor Samuel Pennypacker, to establish a public health program for Pennsylvania.

The work of this lawyer-physician is the basis for our present day health program. He championed the idea of direct aid to rural areas, establishing a system of county health protection under the guidance of the State Health Department. He organized the Bureau of Vital Statistics, providing thereby the basic plan for the Federal Vital Statistics Registration services. His broad vision enabled him to establish the State Tuberculosis Hospitals at Mount Alto and Cresson. His acute sense of responsibility for his fellow men, coupled with his vast knowledge of the value of the use of antitoxins in combating diptheria, enabled him to materially aid in greatly reducing the mortality rate of this disease; now therefore be it Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the plaque of Dr. Samuel G. Dixon be accepted by the Commonwealth and that the plaque be publicly enshrined in the rotunda of the Main Capitol Building.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. BERGER,

That rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. BARR and McCUSKER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 533, entitled:
